FARMERS PLAN BIG INCREASE IN LIVESTOCK

Adams county's hog, pig and chicken population will be increased by half during the coming year, according to plans of county farmers.

The census of nearly 2,000 county farms, completed by the Agricultural Adjustment administration, shows the present number of hogs and pigs to be 19,423 and of hens and pullets for laying purposes to be 369,587. The announced plans of the farmers revealed in the survey shows that the hog and pig population will be increased to 25,832; while the number of hens and pullets to be kept for the eggs will be increased to 463,400. The number of other chickens, as of today is listed at 32,670. The farmers plan to increase that number to 48,993.

The number of horses will also be increased, from 3,460 to 3,495 while the mule population is expected to drop from 1,079 to 1,068. There will be a general increase in the number of dairy animals, while a drop is noted in the number of dairy heifers over two years of age. The older cows will drop from 10,467 to 10,340 while dairy heifers between one and two years of age will increase from 2,429 to 2,586 and the number of heifer calves under a year kept for milk will jump from 1,861 to 3,765. Much of the drop in the older cows will be due to the removal of inefficient producers from the herds.

Labor Important

The questionnaires on dairy production show that much of the proposed increase will be dependent upon the ability of the herd owners to obtain sufficient help to care for the cows. While sections of the country have been witnessing a considerable drop in dairy herds due to lack of help, Adams county farmers have been able so far to keep their herds and plan to increase them.

The number of cattle and calves on feed for market will jump from 5,142 to 5,646.

Despite the increase in dairy herds, the overall livestock picture shows a drop in the total of cattle and calves from 20,631 to 20,185.

To Increase Turkeys

The total of sheep and lambs will drop, according to the farmers, from 1,783 and 1,717 while the number of sheep and lambs on feed for market will increase from 278 at present to 384. The number of ewes will drop from 1,253 to 1,144, and all other sheep and lambs will drop from 228 to 173.

There should be enough turkeys for those Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners, with the number grown increasing from 3,223 at the present time to 8,525. The number of turkeys raised this year is listed at 20,201. Last year the number of turkeys raised was 20,385.

The number of chickens raised, including those hatched last year and sold when a few weeks old to other sections of the country was 457,818. The county plans this year to raise 621,067 chickens.

Cutting Out "Frills"

The number of cattle, calves and sheep sold or slaughtered is decreasing this year, but the other livestock sold or slaughtered has increased.

Give Each Guy A Gun And Have Him Report To Patton

By JACK BELL

Washington, April 8 (AP)—Boys will be boys and the Senate Military and Truman War Investigating committees produced some evidence today by way of proving it.

Each committee is semi-officially somewhat hurt and a little taken aback at the attitude adopted by the other on the burning question of which shall send a delegation to inspect the American fighting positions in north Africa.

Privately some of the boys are pretty mad about the whole thing, and cross words have been exchanged behind the swinging doors of the Senate cloakrooms where really important matters of this nature are threshed out.

The Truman committee, it seems, got the jump on the junket in the form of a letter from President Roosevelt to congressional leaders approving a visit by four committee members to north Africa. The group, headed by Senator Truman (D-Mo.), decided that Senators Mead (D-NY), Hatch (D-NM), Brewster (R-Maine) and Burton (R-Ohio)

Two Army Trucks Collide At Zora

Pruitt, also of Nashville, driver of the second truck failed to notice that Jones had stopped and ran into the rear of the vehicle, according to Private Deatrick of the local sub-station of the state motor police, who investigated. Total damage was estimated at $65. Both drivers were civilians delivering the trucks for Army use.

Allies Continue Advance; Blast 14 More Planes

By EDWARD KENNEDY

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, April 8 (AP)—The British First army gained four or five miles by a surprise attack in the Medjez-El-Bab bulge area yesterday as the Second U. S. army corps and the British Eighth army united in a relentless pursuit of the enemy in the south, it was announced today.

The first army's advance in the northern sector carried its vanguards to within less than 2 airline miles of Tunis, Nazi-held capital of the French protectorate.

More prisoners were rounded up in both northern and southern sectors and Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's positions again were blasted and shot up by Allied aerial squadrons.

Bomb Axis Bases Allied air forces of the Middle East renewed the hammering of Axis trans-Mediterranean bases. Cairo communique said heavy bombers started fresh fires in Naples and explosives were loosed again Tuesday night at Messina, Sicily, and U. S. Liberators attacked Palermo harbor by daylight yesterday, all without the loss of a plane.

Hits were observed along Palermo's quays and in the vicinity of its seaplane base, it was announced. Malta's fighter-bombers attacked industrial targets of Sicily with bombs and machine-gun fire.

The Second U. S. corps of Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., and Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's Eighth army collaborated like two woodsmen at the ends of a crosscut saw to rip Rommel's rearguards from their positions.

A communique disclosed that the Eighth army, after smashing the Wadi El Akarit position 20 miles north of Gabes at dawn Tuesday, repulsed determined enemy counterattacks in heavy fighting that afternoon.

Yanks Push Forward

Marshal Rommel apparently then abandoned all hope of holding out in that area and, realizing that his big armored formations in front of the Americans along the Gafsa-Gabes road were in an untenable position, began a withdrawal under the cover of darkness Tuesday night.

General Patton's Americans immediately pushed ahead, clearing up pockets of resistance which Rommel had left behind and clashing at times with the withdrawing armor itself to attain a point 25 to 30 miles east of El Guetar.

It was at this point that the Americans encountered advanced patrols of the Eighth army yesterday afternoon.

WEISERS MARK WEDDING DATE

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Weiser, 109 East Lincoln avenue, will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary Friday with a family dinner at home for their children and grandchildren.

The Weisers were married April 9, 1893, at Hanover by the Rev. Joseph Peters, then pastor of Trinity Reformed church, Hanover. Mrs. Weiser was the former Miss Nettie Virginia Koehler, daughter of George and Catherine Koehler, of Hanover. Mr. Weiser is a son of Samuel H. and Rachael Weiser, of Gettysburg.

The couple has two sons, J. Monroe Weiser, Springfield, Pa., and Donald K. Weiser, Oak Park, Illinois, and three grandchildren, Frederick S. and Harriet Virginia Weiser, Oak Park and J. Conrad Weiser, Springfield.

Mr. Weiser is a retired passenger conductor for the Reading railroad, retiring in 1939 after 47 years of service. He is now superintendent of rail transportation at the Letterkenny Ordnance Depot at Chambersburg.

They have lived all of their married life in Gettysburg with the exception of two years, spent at Harrisburg and Carlisle. Both are members of St. James Lutheran church.

SHIP MORE KITS

The additional shipment of 85 Army kits has brought the number sent by the county chapter for National Red Cross distribution to 445 it was announced today by Mrs. Monroe Dellinger, kit bag chairman for the county Red Cross. The local chapter has 166 additional kit bags nearly completed. The bags are given to soldiers being shipped overseas.

Down 14 Planes

Enemy columns retreating toward the Port of Sfax, and tanks, transports and troops, were hammered by Allied air forces, sometimes within sight of their own ground forces. Fourteen enemy aircraft were shot down in air combat for a loss of one Allied plane, and Allied anti-aircraft batteries in the northern sector destroyed three more.

Lieut. Gen. K. A. N. Anderson launched his First Army forces against German positions from the Medjez-El-Bab region at dawn yesterday. By noon the first objective and 150 prisoners were taken. The advance continued over country so difficult that mules were largely relied upon to move up supplies.

Competent sources said it was now obvious that Rommel had believed he could not hold out much longer in the Wadi El Akarit positions and the dislodgement of his forces there compelled him to alter his whole plan for remaining in that southern sector for some time to come.

Abandons Italians

Six times as many Italians as Germans were among the Axis prisoners taken, for Rommel was still leaving Italians behind to cover the withdrawal of his German fighters, but the proportion of Germans ran much higher among the prisoners captured by the Americans. The enemy paid the second corpse the compliment of sending some of the best Nazi units against it.

The Americans' struggle against Axis armor, which had advantageous positions on the highlands, was a difficult one and heavy casualties were suffered.

Two Army Trucks Collide At Zora

No one was injured Wednesday afternoon when two U.S. Army trucks collided at the intersection of Routes 116 and 16, four miles west of Fairfield.

Harold Jones, Nashville, Tennessee, driver of the first truck, stopped at the intersection to determine which road lead to Philadelphia. W. B. Pruitt, also of Nashville, driver of the second truck failed to notice that Jones had stopped and ran into the rear of the vehicle, according to Private Deatrick of the local sub-station of the state motor police, who investigated. Total damage was estimated at $65. Both drivers were civilians delivering the trucks for Army use.

79 COUNTIANS IN FOREST FIRE FIGHTER GROUP

Seventy-nine Adams county youths including four Gettysburg girls and 34 local boys have been selected as members of the Forest Fire Fighter Service, it was announced today by the Adams County Council of Defense.

With Joseph W. Stevenson, Orrtanna R. 1, as county coordinator, the service will supplement the regular foresters in the South Mountains in the event of forest fires. High school students from Gettysburg, Biglerville, Arendtsville and Fairfield have been selected for the service. They will operate under the direction of district forester, Thomas Norris, or his assistants.

With the completion of the organization under the direction of the county council of defense, the entire set-up has been placed in the hands of Mr. Norris. The youths will be subject to call at any time by the district forester.

Largest Crew Here

The set-up is designed to prevent a recurrence of conditions experienced last year when soldiers had to be called from Carlisle and students from Dickinson college to fight fires sweeping the Big Flat section.

Members of the fire fighter service already have been given two periods of instruction in how to prevent and fight fires.

The district forester will notify the leader in the nearest town in the event of fire and will call in other sections as needed. The youths will gather at a pre-arranged place in their community and will be met by trucks of the forest service driven by assistants to the district forester who will be in charge of the groups during the fires.

The largest group is in Gettysburg, where 38 youths make up the contingent. Thirteen have been selected for the Biglerville crew, 15 for the Arendtsville unit and 13 for the Fairfield group.

List Members

Jack Cessna is assistant coordinator for the county.

Allies Continue Advance; Blast 14 More Planes

By EDWARD KENNEDY

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, April 8 (AP)—The British First army gained four or five miles by a surprise attack in the Medjez-El-Bab bulge area yesterday as the Second U. S. army corps and the British Eighth army united in a relentless pursuit of the enemy in the south, it was announced today.

The First army's advance in the northern sector carried its vanguards to within less than 2 airline miles of Tunis, Nazi-held capital of the French protectorate.

More prisoners were rounded up in both northern and southern sectors and Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's positions again were blasted and shot up by Allied aerial squadrons.

Bomb Axis Bases

Allied air forces of the Middle East renewed the hammering of Axis trans-Mediterranean bases. Cairo communiques said heavy bombers started fresh fires in Naples and explosives were loosed again Tuesday night at Messina, Sicily, and U. S. Liberators attacked Palermo harbor by daylight yesterday, all without the loss of a plane.

Hits were observed along Palermo's quays and in the vicinity of its seaplane base, it was announced. Malta's fighter-bombers attacked industrial targets of Sicily with bombs and machine-gun fire.

The Second U. S. corps of Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., and Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's Eighth army collaborated like two woodsmen at the ends of a crosscut saw to rip Rommel's rearguards from their positions.

A communique disclosed that the Eighth army, after smashing the Wadi El Akarit position 20 miles north of Gabes at dawn Tuesday, repulsed determined enemy counterattacks in heavy fighting that afternoon.

Yanks Push Forward

Marshal Rommel apparently then abandoned all hope of holding out in that area and, realizing that his big armored formations in front of the Americans along the Gafsa-Gabes road were in an untenable position, began a withdrawal under the cover of darkness Tuesday night.

General Patton's Americans immediately pushed ahead, clearing up pockets of resistance which Rommel had left behind and clashing at times with the withdrawing armor itself to attain a point 25 to 30 miles east of El Gueitar.

It was at this point that the Americans encountered advanced patrols of the Eighth army yesterday afternoon.

WEISERS MARK WEDDING DATE

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Weiser, 109 East Lincoln avenue, will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary Friday with a family dinner at home for their children and grandchildren.

The Weisers were married April 9, 1893, at Hanover by the Rev. Joseph Peters, then pastor of Trinity Reformed church, Hanover. Mrs. Weiser was the former Miss Nettie Virginia Koehler, daughter of George and Catherine Koehler, of Hanover. Mr. Weiser is a son of Samuel H. and Rachael Weiser, of Gettysburg.

The couple has two sons, J. Monroe Weiser, Springfield, Pa., and Donald K. Weiser, Oak Park, Illinois, and three grandchildren, Frederick S. and Harriet Virginia Weiser, Oak Park and J. Conrad Weiser, Springfield.

Mr. Weiser is a retired passenger conductor for the Reading railroad, retiring in 1939 after 47 years of service. He is now superintendent of rail transportation at the Letter-Kenny Ordnance Depot at Chambersburg.

They have lived all of their married life in Gettysburg with the exception of two years, spent at Harrisburg and Carlisle. Both are members of St. James Lutheran church.

SHIP MORE KITS

The additional shipment of 95 Army kits has brought the number sent by the county chapter for National Red Cross distribution to 445. It was announced today by Mrs. Monroe Dellinger, kit bag chairman for the county Red Cross. The local chapter has 166 additional kit bags nearly completed. The bags are given to soldiers being shipped overseas.

Abandons Italians

Six times as many Italians as Germans were among the Axis prisoners taken, for Rommel was still leaving Italians behind to cover the withdrawal of his German fighters, but the proportion of Germans ran much higher among the prisoners captured by the Americans. The enemy paid the second corps the compliment of sending some of the best Nazi units against it.

The Americans' struggle against Axis armor, which had advantageous positions on the highlands, was a difficult one and heavy casualties were suffered.

Allies Must Kill Civilians To Save World From Huns, Japs

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Should the winged fighting forces of the Allies cease bombing industrial cities—like Cologne or the manufacturing suburbs of Paris, for example—because civilians are killed in the raids which are carrying us toward victory and the end of a bloody war?

A committee of Britons—of whom Professor H. Stanley Jevons, widely known educator and author is one—has petitioned the British government to "stop bombing civilians." The committee doesn't object to precision bombing of military and industrial targets, but is "horrified" at such civilian casualties as were caused in Cologne.

Answer Is Easy

Now I don't think for a minute that the committee has lighted a fire which will act as a beacon to summon the world to its support. However, it has raised an interesting subject and one which is quietly but widely being discussed. The answer to the protest isn't hard to find.

Of course, deliberate bombing of civilians—with emphasis on the word "deliberate"—is contrary to international law and is a throw-back to barbarism. But the committee has registered its protest at the wrong headquarters.

The German, Italians and Japanese have engaged in purposeful bombing of non-belligerents throughout the war, presumably in an effort to break civilian morale. Some awful atrocities have been committed.

Death by Chance

There has been no incident of this sort chargeable to the Allies, however, so far as I know. The civilians who have been killed in Cologne and other places have died by chance and not by design.

Agreed that deliberate bombing of civilians is savagery—supposing they get caught at the target? Are bombs to be withheld because of that?

The factories of Cologne were turning out weapons of death to be used against the Allies. Likely some were making bombs for British babies. Certainly the efforts of that great industrial center menaced the Allied cause. They were protracting the war, thereby costing the lives of thousands of United Nations troops and causing untold suffering to civilians in Allied countries.

Use Great Care

Humanity doesn't ask us to make such a sacrifice in order to protect enemy peoples.

Actually Allied bombers do their utmost to protect civilians. I reported an example of this from England last fall. I was chatting with Lieut. Colonel Paul Tibbets, of Miami, Fla., one of our war heroes, about his sensations in bombing, and he told me he always is anxious "for the women and kids."

"You see," he added, "I have a three-year-old boy of my own at home. I hate to think of him playing near a bombed factory. That makes me careful."

We can't ask for greater care than that. As a matter of fact, as this column has insisted before, talk about "humane warfare" is a lot of bunk. War can't be humanized, though we can and do soften some of the blows. Just so long as there's armed aggression which must be met by defense in kind, just so long will civilians die. Try to squirm out of it all you can, but wars are won by killing.

Soldiers Also Die

When you stop to think about it, does death by bombing hurt a civilian more than it does a soldier? I doubt it, though perhaps the civilian's mental anguish is greater because of lack of schooling in violence.

Anyway, the Allies aren't going to let the lives of a few thousand civilians stand in the way of saving the world from the barbarities of Hitler and the Japanese.

The United States for one is building the greatest airforce in the world—and we intend to use it. We shall go out of our way to save civilian lives—but, unless my guess is wrong, we shall keep right on bombing with increasing intensity until the enemy is smashed.

Another Runaway Picked Up Here

Chief of Police Glenn Galt is beginning to wonder why Gettysburg seems to be mecca for youngsters who "flunk" their studies and then decide to leave home.

About a week ago he picked up three girls who ran away from home to avoid telling their parents they had failed in school. Wednesday night he found another, a 16-year-old Detroit, Michigan, boy who decided New York would be a better place for him to live than his home, after failing his high school studies.

Guide put the youth on a bus bound for Detroit this morning and instructed him to return home, after notifying the parents that the boy had been found.

GIVE TESTIMONY IN COURT TRIAL

Trial opened in Dauphin county court Wednesday before Judge Rupp in a damage suit resulting from a collision between a sedan and a tractor trailer at the York Springs intersection the night of December 26, 1941, in which two Harrisburg negroes were fatally injured.

Dr. William Flickinger, York Springs physician who witnessed the collision, and Dr. Bruce N. Wolff, Warner hospital surgeon, were among the witnesses to testify at the afternoon session of the trial. The case remained on trial today. This is the third suit to go to trial at Harrisburg as a result of the York Springs crash.

This action was brought by the Keystone Trust company as administrator of the estate of James Sheddick, late of Harrisburg, one of the negroes fatally injured in the crash. The defendant is the Atlantic States Motor Lines, High Point, North Carolina, with offices in Harrisburg.

Testimony at the trial disclosed that Sheddick occupied the front seat of the sedan of Judge Malone Lester, Harrisburg negro, owner and operator of the car, which telescoped under the big van. Lester died as he was being taken from the wreckage.

The Atlantic States Lines van had entered the intersection from the direction of Hanover when the Harrisburg-bound sedan carrying the negroes struck it and shoved the heavy vehicle against a telephone pole which was snapped off by the impact.

The case for the defense opened today claiming the truck driver was not negligent and accusing the negro driver of contributory negligence.

CARLOAD OF HAY FLOPS IN TOWN

Center square had a decidedly rural aspect from 6:30 to 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, as five tons of hay were in the process of being loaded in the southwest section of the circle.

The scene opened when Earl Klugh, Dillsburgh R. D. drove his truck loaded with five tons of hay, around the square on his way to near Two Taverns.

As the truck swung around the square a rope broke and the hay was deposited in the parking space beside Dougherty and Hartley's stores. Klugh then learned that while five tons of hay could be placed on his truck when he carefully loaded it Wednesday afternoon at his farm—it would not fit when reloaded in Gettysburg.

A "good samaritan" named Harry Luckenbaugh, Gettysburg R. D., came along with a truck and knowing Klugh, decided to help his friend. The remainder of the hay was loaded in Luckenbaugh's truck and the two trucks left for Two Taverns accompanied by much advice from passersby.

Allies Must Kill Civilians To Save World From Huns, Japs

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Should the winged fighting forces of the Allies cease bombing industrial cities—like Cologne or the manufacturing suburbs of Paris, for example—because civilians are killed in the raids which are carrying us toward victory and the end of a bloody war?

A committee of Britons—of whom Professor H. Stanley Jevons, widely known educator and author is one—has petitioned the British government to "stop bombing civilians." The committee doesn't object to precision bombing of military and industrial targets, but is "horrified" at such civilian casualties as were caused in Cologne.

Answer Is Easy

Now I don't think for a minute that the committee has lighted a fire which will act as a beacon to summon the world to its support. However, it has raised an interesting subject and one which is quietly but widely being discussed. The answer to the protest isn't hard to find.

Of course, deliberate bombing of civilians—with emphasis on the word "deliberate"—is contrary to international law and is a throwback to barbarism. But the committee has registered its protest at the wrong headquarters.

The German, Italians and Japanese have engaged in purposeful bombing of non-belligerent throughout the war, presumably in an effort to break civilian morale. Some awful atrocities have been committed.

Death by Chance

There has been no incident of this sort chargeable to the Allies, however, so far as I know. The civilians who have been killed in Cologne and other places have died by chance and not by design.

Agreed that deliberate bombing of civilians is savagery—supposing they get caught at the target? Are bombs to be withheld because of that?

The factories of Cologne were turning out weapons of death to be used against the Allies. Likely some were making bombs for British babies. Certainly the efforts of that great industrial center menaced the Allied cause. They were protracting the war, thereby costing the lives of thousands of United Nations troops and causing untold suffering to civilians in Allied countries.

Use Great Care

Humanity doesn't ask us to make such a sacrifice in order to protect enemy peoples.

Actually Allied bombers do their utmost to protect civilians. I reported an example of this from England last fall. I was chatting with Lieut. Colonel Paul Tibbets, of Miami, Fla., one of our war heroes, about his sensations in bombing, and he told me he always is anxious "for the women and kids."

"You see," he added, "I have a three-year-old boy of my own at home. I hate to think of him playing near a bombed factory. That makes me careful."

We can't ask for greater care than that. As a matter of fact, as this column has insisted before, talk about "humane warfare" is a lot of bunk. War can't be humanized, though we can and do soften some of the blows. Just so long as there's armed aggression which must be met by defense in kind, just so long will civilians die. Try to squirm out of it all you can, but wars are won by killing.

Soldiers Also Die

When you stop to think about it, does death by bombing hurt a civilian more than it does a soldier? I doubt it, though perhaps the civilian's mental anguish is greater because of lack of schooling in violence.

Anyway, the Allies aren't going to let the lives of a few thousand civilians stand in the way of saving the world from the barbarities of Hitler and the Japanese.

The United States for one is building the greatest airforce in the world—and we intend to use it. We shall go out of our way to save civilian lives—but, unless my guess is wrong, we shall keep right on bombing with increasing intensity until the enemy is smashed.

Another Runaway Picked Up Here

Chief of Police Glenn Guise is beginning to wonder why Gettysburg seems to be mecca for youngsters who "flunk" their studies and then decide to leave home.

About a week ago he picked up three girls who ran away from home to avoid telling their parents they had failed in school. Wednesday night he found another, a 16-year-old Detroit, Michigan, boy who decided New York would be a better place for him to live than his home, after failing his high school studies.

Guise put the youth on a bus bound for Detroit this morning and instructed him to return home, after notifying the parents that the boy had been found.

creased. Cattle and calves dropped from 14,554 in 1942 to 9,828 this year. The slaughter or sale of pigs and hogs increased from 21,362 to 28,198. Sheep and lambs dropped from 3,124 to 1,260 while this year has been a great one for the sale of broilers, other chickens and turkeys, principally due to increased production and greater demand on the part of consumers. Prices of chicken and other fowl was generally lower than other meat prices. The number of broilers sold or slaughtered was 231,522 this year as compared with 151,302 last year. # GIVE TESTIMONY IN COURT TRIAL

Trial opened in Dauphin county court Wednesday before Judge Rupp in a damage suit resulting from a collision between a sedan and a tractor trailer at the York Springs intersection the night of December 26, 1941, in which two Harrisburg negroes were fatally injured.

Dr. William Flickinger, York Springs physician who witnessed the collision, and Dr. Bruce N. Wolff, Warner hospital surgeon, were among the witnesses to testify at the afternoon session of the trial. The case remained on trial today. This is the third suit to go to trial at Harrisburg as a result of the York Springs crash.

This action was brought by the Keystone Trust company as administrator of the estate of James Sheddick, late of Harrisburg, one of the negroes fatally injured in the crash. The defendant is the Atlantic States Motor Lines, High Point, North Carolina, with offices in Harrisburg.

Testimony at the trial disclosed that Sheddick occupied the front seat of the sedan of Judge Malone Lester, Harrisburg, negro, owner and operator of the car, which telephoned under the big van. Lester died as he was being taken from the wreckage.

The Atlantic States Lines van had entered the intersection from the direction of Hanover when the Harrisburg-bound sedan carrying the negroes struck it and shoved the heavy vehicle against a telephone pole which was snapped off by the impact.

The case for the defense opened today claiming the truck driver was not negligent and accusing the negro driver of contributory negligence.

CARLOAD OF HAY FLOPS IN TOWN

Center square had a decidedly rural aspect from 6:30 to 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, as five tons of hay were in the process of being loaded in the southwest section of the circle. The scene opened when Earl Klugh, Dillsburgh R. D., drove his truck loaded with five tons of hay, around the square on his way to near Two Taverns.

As the truck swung around the square a rope broke and the hay was deposited in the parking space beside Dougherty and Hartley's store. Klugh then learned that while five tons of hay could be placed on his truck when he carefully loaded it Wednesday afternoon at his farm—it would not fit when being reloaded in Gettysburg.

A "good samaritan" named Harry Luckenbaugh, Gettysburg R. D., came along with a truck and, knowing Klugh, decided to help his friend. The remainder of the hay was loaded in Luckenbaugh's truck and the two trucks left for Two Taverns accompanied by much advice from passersby.

World's Champion Cardinals Break Camp; Indicate Need Of Exhibition Games

LIGHT HITTING MAY BE OFFSET BY GREAT SPEED

By OSCAR KAHAN
Cairo, Ill., April 8 (AP)—The World Champion St. Louis Cardinals wound up their spring training today with indications the club has seriously missed the long string of 25 or 30 exhibition games played down south in previous years.

Intrasquad contests, while valuable as a break in training routine, failed to produce toughening pressure of former competition with major league teams in the good old days in Florida.

Manager Billy Southworth was hopeful, however, that a seven-game spring series with the Browns in St. Louis, starting Saturday, would put the final edge on the Cardinals' condition for the pennant race.

As it is, the team's pitchers are so far ahead of the hitters that Southworth called off two intrasquad games here to concentrate on intensive batting practice. The Cardinals' attack at best may be light. It was not very devastating last year and two heavy hitters, Enos Slaughter and Terry Moore, now are in military service.

This year, with many sluggers at war, poke-out-of-the-park may be less of a factor than at any time since the days before Babe Ruth, and Southworth's offensive again is based on "the utilization of speed to get the few runs that will win for a stout defensive team."

The energetic manager still had several replacement problems, and a few minor injuries to contend with, but all in all the Cardinals appeared in excellent shape for a repeat performance as the league champions.

SPORT SHORTS

Villanova, Pa., April 8 (AP)—Villanova college's 18th annual intrascholastic track meet will be held May 8. In past years more than 600 contestants have entered, representing schools in Pennsylvania, Delaware, New York and New Jersey.

Philadelphia, April 8 (AP)—Parson Bob Jacobs tangles with Roosevelt Thomas, New York negro lightweight, in the main fight on the Olympia AC card tonight. Thomas, who whipped Howard Bennett, Baltimore negro, in his only previous performance here, enters the match as a substitute for Herbie Katz, who is ill.

Philadelphia, April 8 (AP)—Eulace Peacock, former Temple university track great, will run in the 49th annual Penn relay April 23 and 24 at Franklin Field. Now a student at the Manhattan Coast Guard Training Station, Peacock entered the 100-yard invitation dash and will compete against the nation's top sprinters. He won the meet's 100-meter invitation event in 10.6 in 1935.

Del Monte, Calif., April 8 (AP)—Pennsylvanians will coach both major sports at Del Monte Navy Pre-Flight training school. Lieut. Albert E. Humphreys, former Bucknell football mentor, has been appointed football coach and Lieut. E. L. Messikomer, former Temple basketball coach, has been named basketball mentor.

West Point, N. Y., April 8 (AP)—The Army shut out Swarthmore, 9 to 0, in the first game of its regular baseball season yesterday. The Pennsylvanians collected only two hits.

Allentown, Pa., April 8 (AP)—Muhlenberg bowed to Lehigh, 3 to 2, in its opening baseball game yesterday. The Engineers scored the winning run in the ninth on a single and an error and a long fly. Muhlenberg was held to two hits while Lehigh collected six.

Easton, Pa., April 8 (AP)—Lafayette whipped Penn, 2 to 1, in its first baseball game of the season yesterday. Bill McKnight scored the winning run in the fourth on Sandereck's infield single.

Indianapolis, April 8 (AP)—The $64 question at the Indianapolis Riviera club today is whether Swim Star Ann Hardin, now in school at Penn Hall, Chambersburg, Pa., wants to compete again for national honors. The club, which has won three successive women's national outdoor swimming titles, could win in the national indoor meet in Chicago this week-end. Coach Charles L. "Bud" Swain insists, if either Miss Hardin or Betty Bemis, at Hunter college, New York, would swim with the Riviera colors again. But, he adds, there has been no word from either.

Los Angeles, April 8 (AP)—Band leader Tommy Dorsey, who hails from Mahanoy City, Pa., announced to a theatre audience Tuesday night that he and actress Pat Dane, 26, will be married in Las Vegas, Nevada, today.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, April 8 (AP)—Perhaps it's too early in the season to be bringing up the subject, but there may be enough college sports activity, especially baseball, next summer to make up for the shortened spring schedules. . . .

Asa Bushnell, who keeps his fingers in a whole wagonload of college pies, points out that a lot more eastern schools will be having summer sessions this year and he figures that most of them will try to organize teams with the same sort of pick-up schedules that some operated successfully last summer. . . . The result, naturally, will be intercollegiate games within whatever limits transportation and the different starting dates of the summer session make necessary.

MAN JAILED ON BRIDE'S CHARGE

Allentown, Pa., April 8 (AP)—Lorin Gregory, 37, began a jail term of six to 18 months today on a charge arising from his bride's assertion that he forced her—at gunpoint—to marry him.

A jury in Lehigh county court yesterday convicted him of carrying firearms without a license, but acquitted him of charges of burglary, larceny and receiving, assault and battery and carrying a concealed deadly weapon. Judge James F. Henninger imposed the sentence.

Mrs. Gregory, the former Dorothy Mae Trexler, said Gregory forced her to drive with him to Elkhart, Maryland, early last month, and held a revolver in his pocket, pointed at her, while a justice of the peace read the marriage ceremony. Earlier, she alleged, he took $55 from her to finance the trip.

Gregory contended that she accepted his proposal of marriage last New Year's eve and asked him to appear to "kidnap" her because she didn't want her family to "think that she had run out on them."

DOERR, GORDON RATED TOSS-UP

St. Mary's College, Calif. (AP)—Lieut. Charles Gehring may be "through with baseball for good," as he says, but you wouldn't know it to see him working with the Naval station here.

Charley is baseball coach for all the officers, enlisted men and cadets in this Pre-Flight school. Among the candidates who have had pro ball experience are Bill Rigney, shortstop from Oakland; Ray Perry, third baseman from San Francisco; Bill Wight, pitcher from Birmingham, New York; Joe Smith, catcher from Oakland; and Bob Bergstrom, outfielder from Portland.

It is difficult to get Charley to tell any baseball anecdotes, or to compare players he has been in the major leagues, but in a recent fan-mailing he was asked about Bobby Doerr of the Boston Red Sox and Joe Gordon of the Yankees.

Little to Choose
"I wouldn't care to choose between them," declared Gehring. "It's a toss. Gordon's style of infielding makes him look flashier than Doerr, but Bobby is a little more sure of his chances. Joe is the better distance hitter."

Charley said experience is a great teacher because one learns the habits of hitters and can play the percentages when he knows what kind of a throw the pitcher is going to make. "Knowing how to play the hitters enables the experienced infielder to be close enough to a ball that a rookie would miss by a foot or so," asserted Gehring.

The Tier star of 17 years volunteered a kind word for the umpires when one of his players pointed out that Charley had never been tossed out of a major league game and apparently led a charmed life.

Training Camp Briefs

(By The Associated Press)
Evansville, Ind.—Steve O'Neill, 51-year-old manager of the Detroit Tigers, took his turn in batting practice yesterday on the off chance he might be called upon to relieve Dixie Parsons in Sunday's exhibition against Pittsburgh. The division of the Detroit squad for a big week-end schedule left Parsons the only regular catcher with the "home" team.

Hershey, Pa.—There seems to be no end of bad news for the undermanned Phillies. The latest is that Garton Del Savio, the shortstop obtained from Cincinnati for the waiver price of $7,500, has been ordered to report to his draft board for a blood test. Married and with a six-months-old son, Del Savio now is classified 3-A. If he goes, the Phillies will have only three infielders left.

Wilmington, Del.—Manager Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Athletics wants to correct reports that Washington has squared the Bob Johnson-Bobby Estalella deal with a cash settlement. Connie says he will claim a player on waivers at his first opportunity and Owner Clark Griffith of the Senators will pay the bill to make up for the failure of Jimmy Pofahl to report to the Athletics.

The long lean manager is a much more interesting subject than his ball club, which seems doomed for another eighth place finish. In fact, the war probably will remove Mack's lingering hopes for another pennant winner before he leaves baseball. It would take the better part of another decade to build the A's into a pennant contender.

The A's have a young chap, Irving Hall from Williamsport, Pa., a shortstop. Pete Suder, last year's shortstop, is at second. Dick Siebert, perhaps the club's best performer, is at first and Eddie Mayo at third. Mayo had previous unsuccessful trials with the Giants and Braves.

Bob Johnson, the A's best hitter and outfielder for the last decade, has been traded to Washington for Outfielder Estalella and another player yet to be named. The Cuban, an inconsistent batter who raps a long ball when he does connect, probably will handle one outfield spot. There are five other fly-chasers—Jo Jo White, back to the majors from Seattle; John Velaz, up from Buffalo; Elmer Valo, who played regularly a year ago; James Tyack from Little Rock and Felix Mackiewicz from Wilmington.

Catching Staff
The catching will be handled by Hal Wagner, assisted by Earl Bruckner and Bob Swift.

Three tossers from last year—right handers Russ Christopher, Luman Harris and Roger Wolff—are on deck. No one knows what help may come from the unimpressive group of new twirners. These include Jesse Flores, from Los Angeles; John Burrows, a Wilmington lefty; Don Black, from Petersburg, Virginia; and Sam Lowry and Talmadge Abernathy from Wilmington.

Frankly, the A's may be just push-overs for the other American league clubs. It's a tough break for a grand old man like Connie.

MACK LOOKING FINE BUT HIS ATHLETICS-?

By DILLON GRAHAM
Wilmington, Del. (AP)—Cornelius McGillicuddy, baseball's octogenarian manager, is looking fine this spring, and it's too bad you can't say the same about his ball club.

The tall straight tutor of the Philadelphia Athletics doesn't appear to be past 80, an old man starting his 44th season in the American league. His hair is snow white, yes, but you'd take him to be maybe 15 years younger. He has good color, and there's a bright twinkle in the keen blue eyes that sit well back in his face.

Connie Mack is a good conversationalist and, as he sits in the dug-out at the A's practice field here, he keeps up a running stream of talk with the players and baseball writers. Remembering something that happened last year, and then quickly jumping 30 years back to tell about a spring training trip through Texas, or a funny anecdote about the unpredictable left-hander Rube Walcott.

Flippant Leader
Mr. Mack sits on a pillow on the rough board bench of the dugout. You glance at his straight back and notice your own curved posture and admire the old gentleman's erect carriage. Mr. Mack, that's what everyone calls him. Connie seems a bit flippant for a man with Mr. Mack's age and quiet dignity and extreme courtesy.

He likes a joke, even if it's on him. One of the writers in the dugout was saying that Roberto Estalella, the Cuban outfielder obtained from Washington, had never played on a first division team. Roberto says he's always in the "second or third division." Mr. Mack chuckled quietly and remarked: "Well, he's come to the right place to keep that record intact."

Mr. Mack seldom moves from his dugout seat but he keeps a close watch on the field. He'll lean forward at the crack of a bat to see how far one of his players blasted one. Or he'll motion to Earl, his son, to do this or that. Earl is in uniform and actually directs the team's drills.

Team Doomed
The long lean manager is a much more interesting subject than his ball club, which seems doomed for another eighth place finish. In fact, the war probably will remove Mack's lingering hopes for another pennant winner before he leaves baseball. It would take the better part of another decade to build the A's into a pennant contender.

Says Woman Kissed Picture Of Hitler

Philadelphia, April 8 (AP)—German-born Mrs. Theresa Kuhn once kissed a picture of Adolf Hitler and exclaimed, "this is my president," a government witness testified at her denaturalization trial yesterday.

The witness, Mrs. Helen Leary, said the incident occurred in 1932 when she was employed in a tea room which Mrs. Kuhn operated. Mrs. Kuhn denied the allegation.

Later U. S. District Judge William H. Kirkpatrick took the case under advisement. The government contends that she maintained a mental reservation of loyalty to Germany when she became a citizen.

WOMAN SLAYER OF HUSBY IS DENIED PARDON

Harrisburg, April 8 (AP)—The state Board of Pardons yesterday refused the plea for commutation of sentence of Mrs. Clara Grace Prophet, 44, Philadelphia, one-time church choir singer who was condemned twice to die in the electric chair for the murder of her husband.

Mrs. Prophet and her brother, Harold E. Williams, 38, Bucks county, were convicted in 1931 of first degree murder in the slaying of William P. Prophet in 1930.

The state charged they killed Prophet to collect $3,260 insurance. Williams was convicted twice and sentenced to death but in a third trial he pleaded guilty and was given a life sentence. However, his sentence was commuted in 1941, when Mrs. Prophet confessed that she alone had slain her husband.

Served 12 Years
Her plea for commutation of sentence was made on grounds that she had served 12 years for the offense and "has rehabilitated herself although she is not the criminal type." Her counsel asserted "she enjoys the confidence of the authorities at the Muncy Industrial Home for Women" where she has been serving her sentence.

At the board meeting, Tracey declared "a great many people thought Mrs. Prophet was the instigator of this whole thing." He said "the application is without merit and we're opposed to it."

Britain expects to import 80,000 tons of dried eggs from the United States in 1943.

TROUT STREAMS IN STATE WILL LURE ANGLERS

Harrisburg, April 8 — There will be no rationing in the number of miles of some of Pennsylvania's best trout streams this year, according to Secretary James A. Kell of the State Department of Forests and Waters.

Nearly half of the 5,000 miles of streams running through State Forest areas are classed as trout waters, he said, and all easily available to fishing enthusiasts when they start the season April 15.

Maintaining the lead over all other states in the mileage of fishing streams within State Forests, the Department watches closely an old rule prohibiting timberland cuttings within 50 feet of a stream. This provides shade and food for the fish in the waters, said Kell.

Erosion Watched
"Soil erosion is one of the major problems concerning our streams," the secretary said. "When sand, silt and stones are washed into the waters, many breeding places are broken up, hidden, changed or destroyed."

"To prevent or to remedy such conditions where an adequate growth is not present, the banks are planted with trees or brush, especially along open stretches to promote shade, which in turn cools the water and provides rootings to retain ground waters and washing of silt," he added.

Build Dams
"The Department also is constantly building and maintaining small dams, deflectors and shelters to contribute to the growth, reproduction and survival of trout."

Supplementing the 611 miles of these streams assigned to the Fish commission for legal-size trout stocking, forest rangers and local sportsmen regularly plant fingerlings in about 1,200 miles of the 2,400 miles of trout waters running through State Forest areas.

STATE AIR SCHOOL

Harrisburg, April 8 (AP)—Governor Martin was asked at a press conference whether he favored a Senate proposal to convert one of Pennsylvania's Teacher colleges into a state school of aeronautics. "If that will make a real war service," he replied. The proposal was made by Rep. Elmer J. Holland (D-Allegheny).

The biggest allocations in the estimates include $9,024,000,000 for the increase, repair and replacement of Naval vessels, $3,476,800,000 for the Bureau of Ordnance, $4,286,211,000 for the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts, $1,887,000,000 for the Bureau of Ships, and $1,640,000,000 for the Bureau of Aeronautics.

Cannon termed it the largest regular appropriation bill for the Navy in history. It compares with $23,630,000,000 appropriated for the 1943 fiscal year, but that amount included supplemental, deficiency and emergency appropriations as well as the regular allotment of about $14,000,000,000.

World's Champion Cardinals Break Camp; Indicate Need Of Exhibition Games

LIGHT HITTING MAY BE OFFSET BY GREAT SPEED

By OSCAR KAHAN

Cairo, Ill., April 8 (AP)—The World Champion St. Louis Cardinals wound up their spring training today with indications the club has seriously missed the long string of 25 or 30 exhibition games played down south in previous years.

Intrasquad contests, while valuable as a break in training routine, failed to produce toughening pressure of former competition with major league teams in the good old days in Florida.

Manager Billy Southworth was hopeful, however, that a seven-game spring series with the Browns in St. Louis, starting Saturday, would put the final edge on the Cardinals' condition for the pennant race.

As it is, the team's pitchers are so far ahead of the hitters that Southworth called off two intrasquad games here to concentrate on intensive batting practice. The Cardinals' attack at best may be light. It was not very devastating last year and two heavy hitters, Enos Slaughter and Terry Moore, now are in military service.

This year, with many sluggers at war, poke-out-of-the-park may be less of a factor than at any time since the days before Babe Ruth, and Southworth's offensive again is based on "the utilization of speed to get the few runs that will win for a stout defensive team."

The energetic manager still had several replacement problems, and a few minor injuries to contend with, but all in all the Cardinals appeared in excellent shape for a repeat performance as the league champions.

SPORT SHORTS

Villanova, Pa., April 8 (AP)—Villanova college's 16th annual interscholastic track meet will be held May 8. In past years more than 600 contestants have entered, representing schools in Pennsylvania, Delaware, New York and New Jersey.

Philadelphia, April 8 (AP)—Parson Bob Jacobs tangles with Roosevelt Thomas, New York negro lightweight, in the main fight on the Olympia A.C. card tonight. Thomas, who whipped Howard Bennett, Baltimore negro, in his only previous performance here, enters the match as a substitute for Herbie Katz, who is ill.

Philadelphia, April 8 (AP)—Eulace Peacock, former Temple university track great, will run in the 49th annual Penn relays April 23 and 24 at Franklin Field. Now a student at the Manhattan Coast Guard Training Station, Peacock entered the 100-yard invitation dash and will compete against the nation's top sprinters. He won the meet's 100-meter invitation event in 1938.

Del Monte, Calif., April 8 (AP)—Pennsylvanians will coach both major sports at Del Monte Navy Pre-Flight training school. Lieut. Albert E. Humphreys, former Bucknell football mentor, has been appointed football coach and Lieut. E. L. Mesikomer, former Temple basketball coach, has been named basketball mentor.

West Point, N. Y., April 8 (AP)—The Army shut out Swardmore, 9 to 0, in the first game of its regular baseball season yesterday. The Pennsylvanians collected only two hits.

Allentown, Pa., April 8 (AP)—Muhlenberg bowed to Lehigh, 3 to 2, in its opening baseball game yesterday. The Engineers scored the winning run in the ninth on a single, an error and a long fly. Muhlenberg was held to two hits while Lehigh collected six.

Easton, Pa., April 8 (AP)—Lafayette whipped Penn, 2 to 1, in its first baseball game of the season yesterday. Bill McKnight scored the winning run in the fourth on Sandercock's infield single.

Indianapolis, April 8 (AP)—The $64 question at the Indianapolis Riviera club today is whether Swim Star Ann Hardin, now in school at Penn Hall, Chambersburg, Pa., wants to compete again for national honors. The club, which has won three successive women's national outdoor swimming titles, could win in the national indoor meet in Chicago this week-end. Coach Charles L. (Bud) Swain insists, if either Miss Hardin or Betty Bemis, at Hunter college, New York, would swim with the Riviera colors again. But, he adds, there has been no word from either.

Los Angeles, April 8 (AP)—Band-leader Tommy Dorsey, who hails from Mahanoy City, Pa., announced to a theatre audience Tuesday night that he and actress Pat Dane, 26, will be married in Las Vegas, Nevada, today.

Duquesne Chooses News Bureau Head

Pittsburgh, April 8 (AP)—Duquesne university announced today John D. Holahan, business manager and publicity director for the athletic department, has been appointed chief of the university's News Bureau, succeeding Jack Davis, who has been appointed a full time instructor.

Holahan had held the athletic business manager post for many years. Duquesne last week dropped all intercollegiate athletics for the duration.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, April 8 (AP)—Perhaps it's too early in the season to be bringing up the subject, but there may be enough college sports activity, especially baseball, next summer to make up for the shortened spring schedules. . . . Asa Bushne, who keeps his fingers in a whole wagonload of college pies, points out that a lot more eastern schools will be having summer sessions this year and he figures that most of them will try to organize teams with the same sort of pick-up schedules that some operated successfully last summer. . . . The result, naturally, will be intercollegiate games within whatever limits transportation and the different starting dates of the summer session make necessary.

The division of the Detroit squad for a big week-end schedule left Parsons the only regular catcher with the "home" team.

Hershey, Pa.—There seems to be no end of bad news for the undermanned Phillies. The latest is that Garton Del Savio, the shortstop obtained from Cincinnati for the waiver price of $7,500, has been ordered to report to his draft board for a blood test. Married and with a six-months-old son, Del Savio now is classified 3-A. If he goes, the Phillies will have only three infielders left.

Wilmington, Del.—Manager Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Athletics wants to correct reports that Washington has squared the Bob Johnson-Bobby Estalella deal with a cash settlement. Connie says he will claim a player on waivers at his first opportunity and Owner Clark Griffith of the Senators will pay the bill to make up for the failure of Jimmy Pofahl to report to the Athletics.

Muncie, Ind.—Jimmy Wasdell, Pittsburgh Pirates outfielder, has received a notice from his draft board to be ready for his first physical examination within a few days. Rip Collins, manager of the Bucs' Albany, New York, farm, left camp yesterday and Outfielder Ernie Sites, Pitcher Leonard Gilmore and Catcher Paul Whittingham, who have been working with the Pirates, will join the Albany squad over the week-end.

Chicago, April 8 (AP)—National football league club owners and coaches stuffed their briefcases today with long lists of soon-to-graduate college graders to whom they hoped to draw title at the draft session, closing task of their three-day meeting.

With the "duration" exit of the Cleveland Rams, the Magnates appeared for awhile to believe nine clubs would go this year, but as any special plan for alleviating the manpower shortage failed to materialize, the atmosphere again became restive.

This feeling was apparent last night when a hastily-revised 45-game schedule failed to please the delegates. Commissioner Elmer Layden then was asked to prepare another chart for submission to a mail vote later.

The newly adopted 25 player limit, which Layden says will cut man mileage 37 per cent from last year, was regarded as an optimistic high, inasmuch as some teams now don't know where they'll get 11 men for opening day.

MAY 1, WPA DEADLINE
Harrisburg, April 8 (AP)—A May 1 deadline for all WPA projects in Pennsylvania to close has been set in Federal orders to State Administrator Richard Irvine. The State WPA head said some of the projects will be closed down by April 15 but "active operations" would proceed until the May 1 deadline.

expect the umpire always to know." When the war is over, Charley plans to go back to Detroit in sales and engineering work. He owns his home there and lives with his mother, Mrs. Theresa Gehring.

MACK LOOKING FINE BUT HIS ATHLETICS-?

By DILLON GRAHAM

Wilmington, Del. (AP)—Cornelius McGillicuddy, baseball's octogenarian manager, is looking fine this spring, and it's too bad you can't say the same about his ball club.

The tall straight tutor of the Philadelphia Athletics doesn't appear to be past 80, an old man starting his 44th season in the American league. His hair is snow white, yes, but you'd take him to be maybe 15 years younger. He has good color, and there's a bright twinkle in the keen blue eyes that sit well back in his face.

Connie Mack is a good conversationalist, and as he sits in the dugout at the A's practice field here, he keeps up a running stream of talk with the players and baseball writers, remembering something that happened last year, and then quickly jumping 30 years back to tell about a spring training trip through Texas, or a funny anecdote about the unpredictable left-hander Rube Waddell.

Flippant Leader
Mr. Mack sits on a pillow on the rough board bench of the dugout. You glance at his straight back and notice your own curved posture and admire the old gentleman's erect carriage. Mr. Mack, that's what everyone calls him. Connie seems a bit flippant for a man with Mr. Mack's age and quiet dignity and extreme courtesy.

He likes a joke, even if it's on him. One of the writers in the dugout was saying that Roberto Estalella, the Cuban outfielder obtained from Washington, had never played on a first division team. Roberto says he's always in the "second or third division." Mr. Mack chuckled quietly and remarked: "Well, he's come to the right place to keep that record intact."

Mr. Mack seldom moves from his dugout seat but he keeps a close watch on the field. He'll lean forward at the crack of a bat to see how far one of his players blasted one. Or he'll motion to Earl, his son, to do this or that. Earl is in uniform and actually directs the team's drills.

Team Doomed
The long lean manager is a much more interesting subject than his ball club, which seems doomed for another eighth place finish. In fact, the war probably will remove Mack's lingering hopes for another pennant winner before he leaves baseball. It would take the better part of another decade to build the A's into a pennant contender.

The A's have a young chap, Irving Hall from Williamsport, Pa., a shortstop. Pete Suder, last year's shortstop, is at second. Dick Siebert, perhaps the club's best performer, is at first and Eddie Mayo at third. Mayo had previous unsuccessful trials with the Giants and Braves.

Bob Johnson, the A's best hitter and outfielder for the last decade, has been traded to Washington for Outfielder Estalella and another player yet to be named. The Cuban, an inconsistent batter who raps a long ball when he does connect, probably will handle one outfield spot. There are five other fly-chasers—Jo Jo White, back to the majors from Seattle; John Welaj, up from Buffalo; Elmer Valo, who played regularly a year ago; James Tyack from Little Rock and Felix Mackiewicz from Wilmington.

Catching Staff
The catching will be handled by Hal Wagner, assisted by Earl Brucker and Bob Swift.

Three tossers from last year—right handers Russ Christopher, Luman Harris and Roger Wolf—are on deck. No one knows what help may come from the unimpaired group of new twirlers. These include Jesse Flores, from Los Angeles; John Burrows, a Wilmington lefty; Don Black, from Petersburg, Virginia, and Sam Lowry and Talmadge Abernathy from Wilmington.

Frankly, the A's may be just push-overs for the other American league clubs. It's a tough break for a grand old man like Connie.

Says Woman Kissed Picture Of Hitler

Philadelphia, April 8 (AP)—German-born Mrs. Theresa Kuhn once kissed a picture of Adolf Hitler and exclaimed, "this is my president," a government witness testified at her denaturalization trial yesterday.

The witness, Mrs. Helen Leary, said the incident occurred in 1932 when she was employed in a tea room which Mrs. Kuhn operated.

Mrs. Kuhn denied the allegation. Later U. S. District Judge William H. Kirkpatrick took the case under advisement. The government contends that she maintained a mental reservation of loyalty to Germany when she became a citizen.

WOMAN SLAYER OF HUSBY IS DENIED PARDON

Harrisburg, April 8 (AP)—The state Board of Pardons yesterday refused the plea for commutation of sentence of Mrs. Clara Grace Prophet, 44, Philadelphia, one-time church choir singer who was condemned twice to die in the electric chair for the murder of her husband.

Mrs. Prophet and her brother, Harold E. Williams, 38, Bucks county, were convicted in 1931 of first degree murder in the slaying of William P. Prophet in 1930.

The state charged they killed Prophet to collect $3,260 insurance. Williams was convicted twice and sentenced to death but in a third trial he pleaded guilty and was given a life sentence. However, his sentence was commuted in 1941, when Mrs. Prophet confessed that she alone had slain her husband.

Served 12 Years
Her plea for commutation of sentence was made on grounds that she had served 12 years for the offense and "has rehabilitated herself although she is not the criminal type." Her counsel asserted "she enjoys the confidence of the authorities at the Muncy Industrial Home for Women" where she has been serving her sentence.

At the board meeting, Tracey declared "a great many people thought Mrs. Prophet was the instigator of this whole thing." He said "the application is without merit and we're opposed to it."

Britain expects to import 80,000 tons of dried eggs from the United States in 1943.

TROUT STREAMS IN STATE WILL LURE ANGLERS

Harrisburg, April 8 — There will be no rationing in the number of miles of some of Pennsylvania's best trout streams this year, according to Secretary James A. Kell of the State Department of Forests and Waters.

Nearly half of the 5,000 miles of streams running through State Forest areas are classed as trout waters, he said, and all easily available to fishing enthusiasts when they start the season April 15.

Maintaining the lead over all other states in the mileage of fishing streams within State Forests, the Department watches closely an old rule prohibiting timberland cuttings within 50 feet of a stream. This provides shade and food for the fish in the waters, said Kell.

Erosion Watched
"Soil erosion is one of the major problems concerning our streams," the secretary said. "When sand, silt and stones are washed into the waters, many breeding places are broken up, hidden, changed or destroyed."

"To prevent or to remedy such conditions where an adequate growth is not present, the banks are planted with trees or brush, especially along open stretches to promote shade, which in turn cools the water and provides rootings to retain ground waters and washing of silt," he added.

Build Dams
"The Department also is constantly building and maintaining small dams, deflectors and shelters to contribute to the growth, reproduction and survival of trout."

Supplementing the 611 miles of these streams assigned to the Fish commission for legal-size trout stocking, forest rangers and local sportsmen regularly plant fingerlings in about 1,200 miles of 2,400 miles of trout waters running through State Forest areas.

STATE AIR SCHOOL

Harrisburg, April 8 (AP)—Governor Martin was asked at a press conference whether he favored a Senate proposal to convert one of Pennsylvania's Teacher colleges into a state school of aeronautics. "If that will make a real war service—yes," he replied. The proposal was made by Rep. Elmer J. Holland (D-Allegheny).

Approves Tax On Butter Substitutes

Harrisburg, April 8 (AP)—A bill calling for a 10-cent tax on butter substitutes will not be blocked by the Administration, Governor Martin has indicated.

He explained "we are going to have to use some" butter substitutes "but for the protection of the farmers many members of the legislature thought it would be a fair tax to impose." The proposal—now in a House committee—will bring in an estimated $5,000,000 in revenue in the next biennium.

NAVY REQUESTS $24 BILLION FOR FISCAL PERIOD

By ALEX H. SINGLETON

Washington, April 8 (AP)—A Navy request for $24,151,070,000 in new funds for the 1944 fiscal year was laid before Congress today with a grim reminder of the cost of repairing and replacing ships damaged in battle.

The estimated financial needs—largest amount ever sought for the sea-fighting forces—were sent to Congress by President Roosevelt, and Chairman Cannon (D-Missouri) announced an appropriations subcommittee would begin studying them Saturday.

From Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Naval committee came the assertion that the unprecedented appropriations would go to add "greater and greater strength to the fleet and its air arm until we drive the enemy from the sea back to his shore as we press forward to victory."

Varied Expenses
The biggest allocations in the estimates include $9,024,000,000 for the increase, repair and replacement of Naval vessels, $3,476,800,000 for the Bureau of Ordnance, $4,286,211,000 for the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts, $1,887,000,000 for the Bureau of Ships, and $1,640,000,000 for the Bureau of Aeronautics.

Cannon termed it the largest regular appropriation bill for the Navy in history. It compares with $23,630,000,000 appropriated for the 1943 fiscal year, but that amount included supplemental, deficiency and emergency appropriations as well as the regular allotment of about $14,000,000,000.

THE HERITAGE OF CHILDHOOD
One of the fascinating books, which for years has been a favorite of mine, is that one by Kenneth Grahame, "The Wind in the Willows." The book is a series of stories that were told to the author's young son, who later died. The author also died a few years ago, but left one of the most lovable books ever written about animals.

Kenneth Grahame was at one time Secretary for the Bank of England, and what writing he did was for the pure love of it. And yet, though he produced but five brief books, each is worth reading and trying to. I first got interested in him through a small book, called "Pagan Papers," printed in a very limited edition. Then came "The Wind in the Willows"—a veritable masterpiece. Though the latter was written for children it is not a child's book, but, as Arnold Bennett once wrote "a book about animals and childhood for grown ups," or words to that effect.

Fifty years ago James Whitcomb Riley wrote a letter to a noted publishing house as follows: "The older I grow the more I am persuaded that Childhood is Man's first, natural and abiding characteristic; and that native sway of this simple spirit ought to be, at least not suppressed."

To my notion the heritage of Childhood should be an abiding memory throughout life, so that it involves upon us all to protect, and make as beautiful and enduring as is possible, every happy experience connected with it. Not alone for those who are yet children, but for those who carry Childhood's spirit ever about with them. What a boon to little David Copperfield were those rare kindnesses afforded him in his difficult climb to happiness.

The heritage of Childhood should be a happy one, simple though it may be. That is what the liberty-loving nations of the world are fighting for—to secure such a heritage for all future years. It is the child's inherent right.

If you have ever read that lovely little book, "The Roadmender," by Michael Fairless, you will recall how the smile of a child changed the whole life of a rough, profane man, and how when he thought of it, he "looked on God." Said this lovely writer: "There need be no loneliness in the world while it holds a little child."

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Enemies"

Ask $40,000,000 For Land Army Of Farm Workers

APPROVAL IS INDICATED BY BILL SPONSORS

By JOHN H. WIGGINS
Washington, April 8 (AP)—Legislation calling for a $40,000,000 appropriation to help meet a demand for 3,500,000 more farm workers this year faced a Senate test today with supporters predicting prompt passage.

The bill, approved earlier by the House, was upped $14,000,000 by the Senate Appropriations committee to finance a gigantic army of mobile agricultural workers and at the same time permit recipients of old age assistance to perform farm labor without losing their benefit payments.

"Super Floaters"
First objections came from some farm state senators who feared that creation of large groups of transient farm workers might form a new class of "super floaters" dependent upon government funds, supplies, transportation and housing.

The bill authorizes the food administrator to spend $40,000,000 "for assisting in providing an adequate supply of workers for the production and harvesting of agricultural commodities essential to the prosecution of the war."

From $13,500,000 to $20,000,000 would be apportioned to state agriculture extension services for recruiting, training and placing workers and for leasing housing facilities including the former Civilian Conservation Corps camps.

Up to $20,000,000 more could be spent by the administrator for operating personnel and other administrative expenses, transportation of workers and their families "within the United States and elsewhere," and for advancing to workers amounts due from employers who in turn must reimburse the government.

To safeguard labor shortage areas, the bill would prohibit paying for transportation of any worker from one community to another without written consent of the county extension agent.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

I am sending you my new address while I am on maneuvers in Louisiana. I have neglected writing to tell you how much I appreciate the good old home town news. As we get closer and closer to that time when we shall leave the States, The Gettysburg Times becomes more valuable to me each and every week. Since you only send the paper once a week now, I really look forward to that day when we have mail call and I receive the Times. One part of the paper I always look at first is the letters written by the other men in the armed forces and thereby find out where they're located. Those letters are really interesting to read.

As I am in a medical battalion most of our officers were doctors in civilian life and some of the enlisted men have had some medical experience. The officers are all a real lot of swell fellows, especially our company commander who comes from Harrisburg. All the men in the company really would do anything for him. He is a man you like, not because the Army says so, but because he is the kind of a man he is. Well, I must close for the time. Will be glad to get a line from the friends I used to know back home. Will try and write a little more later.

Yours truly,

c/o Postmaster,

Need Teachers In Philadelphia

Philadelphia, April 8 (AP)—The Philadelphia public school system needs 500 additional teachers "at once," Dr. Alexander J. Stoddard, superintendent, said today.

We are getting to the point where we cannot supply teachers and if you hear of classes without teachers don't be surprised," he said. "Sometimes as many as 40 classes a day go without teachers."

He urged former teachers who have married or taken other jobs to return to school service for the duration.

Jurors Probing Meat Violations

Philadelphia, April 8 (AP)—A federal grand jury resumed today an investigation of OPA price charges involving 11 meat wholesalers and slaughterers, five in Philadelphia, four in Lehigh county and one each in Montgomery and Delaware counties.

A spokesman for the Office of Price Administration, which filed the original complaints, said the concerns were accused of receiving thousands of dollars in overcharges.

The OPA also alleged that meat was up-graded, billed at excess weight in order to raise prices, and sold by some of the firms only to consumers who agreed to purchase other food commodities which they did not want.

COAL PARLEY IS DEADLOCKED

New York, April 8 (AP)—Bituminous operators of both the northern and southern Appalachian areas assert that a contract covering 450,000 soft coal miners cannot be consummated by further parleys with the United Mine Workers.

Their agreement on this declaration was coupled with a statement from the southern operators that they would ask at once for War Labor board intervention into the wage dispute.

The deadlock between the operators and the union as reflected by statements made yesterday raised the threat of the possible collapse of contract negotiations and provoked from Dr. John R. Steelman, United States Conciliation service head, the comment that "enough has been said now to indicate that this conference is in rather a bad way at this time."

"As long as people sit around a table and look at each other and talk together there is hope," he added.

Out of the northern wage conference, which heretofore had been assumed to be making more progress than the southern meeting, came a statement by the operators that a pact could not be consummated by further parleys and a proposal that the present contract be observed for the war's duration, subject to any government required changes.

Liberators Blast Harbor Of Palermo

Cairo, April 8 (AP)—Palermo harbor was attacked by Liberator bombers of the Ninth United States Air Force in daylight yesterday, a communique announced today.

Hits were observed along the quay and in the vicinity of a seaplane station, a communique said, and enemy fighters attacked the formation in vain. All of the planes returned, it was announced.

The American Liberators attacked the harbor in a followup to raids by Allied heavy bombers the night before on Naples and the Sicilian ferry terminus at Messina, which were announced by the Middle East command in a communique.

Fires again were started in Naples harbor, the objective of a series of devastating blows by Allied bombers. All planes returned safely from Tuesday night's attack, the communique said.

Publisher's Son Accepted By Army

Camden, N. J., April 8 (AP)—A year ago David Stern, 3d, publisher of the Camden Courier-Post newspapers and vice president of the Philadelphia Record, tried to enlist in the Army as a private but examining physicians rejected him.

The 35-year-old father began receiving treatment and last November underwent an operation. Two weeks ago his physician advised him that he was fit. He volunteered again, and yesterday he was accepted.

Private Stern lives in Haddonfield, New Jersey, with his wife and six-year-old son. He is the son of J. David Stern, publisher and president of the Record and president of the Camden Courier-Post.

DEFY FDR TO TREAT LABOR LIKE FARMERS

Washington, April 8 (AP)—Congressional farm bloc spokesmen, abandoning their fight for immediate increases in agricultural price ceilings, today challenged the administration to "get as tough with labor as it was with agriculture."

The vetoed Bankhead bill to prohibit the deduction of government benefit payments before fixing maximum prices on farm commodities went back to the Senate Agriculture committee by a 62 to 23 vote, there to join the Pace bill which would include all labor costs in the farm parity formula.

The committee summoned Price Administrator Prentiss Brown and Agriculture Secretary Claude Wickard for hearing on the latter bill today, but committee members said neither measure would be pressed until, as Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.) put it, "we see what the President does about John L. Lewis' demands."

Lewis is seeking $2-a-day wage increase for his United Mine workers.

Both bills have been attacked by the administration as "inflationary." President Roosevelt, in vetoing the Bankhead bill, declared it might unleash "a tornado" of inflation that would lead to higher living costs and drastic upward revision of wage scales.

Debate on the vetoed bill occupied two days and ended, in a manner of speaking, in a draw. The administration couldn't muster enough votes to kill it, and the farm bloc couldn't override the President.

"The motion to send the bill and message back to the committee gave senators an out," said majority leader Barkley of Kentucky. "It still hangs like a club over the heads of administration leaders—and over the farm bloc as well, although they don't see it that way."

20 Commutations, 13 Pardons Given

Harrisburg, April 8 (AP)—Pardons were granted to 13 persons by Governor Martin yesterday, the first since he took office, and commutation of sentence was granted to 20 others on recommendation of the state pardon board on cases heard at its February session.

Clemency was refused to 88 persons and nine other similar pleas were held under advisement.

THE HERITAGE OF CHILDHOOD

One of the fascinating books, which for years has been a favorite of mine, is that one by Kenneth Grahame, "The Wind in the Willows." The book is a series of stories that were told to the author's young son, who later died. The author also died a few years ago, but left one of the most lovable books ever written about animals.

Kenneth Grahame was at one time Secretary for the Bank of England, and what writing he did was for the pure love of it. And yet, though he produced but five brief books, each is worth reading and trying to. I first got interested in him through a small book, called "Pagan Papers," printed in a very limited edition. Then came "The Wind in the Willows"—a veritable masterpiece. Though the latter was written for children it is not a child's book, but, as Arnold Bennett once wrote "a book about animals and childhood for grown ups," or words to this effect.

Fifty years ago James Whitcomb Riley wrote a letter to a noted publishing house as follows: "The older I grow the more I am persuaded that Childhood is Man's first, natural and abiding characteristic; and that native sway of this simple spirit ought to be, at least not suppressed."

To my notion the heritage of Childhood should be an abiding memory throughout life, so that it involves upon us all to protect, and make as beautiful and enduring as is possible, every happy experience connected with it. Not alone for those who are yet children, but for those who carry Childhood's spirit ever about with them. What a boon to little David Copperfield were those rare kindnesses afforded him in his difficult climb to happiness.

The heritage of Childhood should be a happy one, simple though it may be. That is what the liberty loving nations of the world are fighting for—to secure such a heritage for all future years. It is the child's inherent right.

If you have ever read that lovely little book, "The Roadmender," by Michael Fairless, you will recall how the smile of a child changed the whole life of a rough, profane man, and how when he thought of it, he "looked on God." Said this lovely writer: "There need be no loneliness in the world while it holds a little child."

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Enemies."

Ask $40,000,000 For Land Army Of Farm Workers

APPROVAL IS INDICATED BY BILL SPONSORS

By JOHN H. WIGGINS

Washington, April 8 (AP)—Legislation calling for a $40,000,000 appropriation to help meet a demand for 3,500,000 more farm workers this year faced a Senate test today with supporters predicting prompt passage.

The bill, approved earlier by the House, was upped $14,000,000 by the Senate Appropriations committee to finance a gigantic army of mobile agricultural workers and at the same time permit recipients of old age assistance to perform farm labor without losing their benefit payments.

"Super Floaters"
First objections came from some farm state senators who feared that creation of large groups of transient farm workers might form a new class of "super floaters" dependent upon government funds, supplies, transportation and housing.

The bill authorizes the food administrator to spend $40,000,000 "for assisting in providing an adequate supply of workers for the production and harvesting of agricultural commodities essential to the prosecution of the war."

From $13,500,000 to $20,000,000 would be apportioned to state agriculture extension services for recruiting, training and placing workers and for leasing housing facilities including the former Civilian Conservation Corps camps.

Up to $20,000,000 more could be spent by the administrator for operating personnel and other administrative expenses, transportation of workers and their families "within the United States and elsewhere," and for advancing to workers amounts due from employers who in turn must reimburse the government.

To safeguard labor shortage areas, the bill would prohibit paying for transportation of any worker from one county to another without written consent of the county extension agent.

Coal Parley Is Deadlocked
New York, April 8 (AP)—Bituminous operators of both the northern and southern Appalachian areas assert that a contract covering 450,000 soft coal miners cannot be consummated by further parleys with the United Mine Workers.

Their agreement on this declaration was coupled with a statement from the southern operators that they would ask at once for War Labor board intervention into the wage dispute.

The deadlock between the operators and the union as reflected by statements made yesterday raised the threat of the possible collapse of contract negotiations and provoked from Dr. John R. Steelman, United States Conciliation service head, the comment that "enough has been said now to indicate that this conference is in rather a bad way at this time."

"As long as people sit around a table and look at each other and talk together there is hope," he added.

Out of the northern wage conference, which heretofore had been assumed to be making more progress than the southern meeting, came a statement by the operators that a pact could not be consummated by further parleys and a proposal that the present contract be observed for the war's duration, subject to any government required changes.

Liberators Blast Harbor Of Palermo
Cairo, April 8 (AP)—Palermo harbor was attacked by Liberator bombers of the Ninth United States Air Force in daylight yesterday, a communique announced today.

Hits were observed along the quay and in the vicinity of a seaplane station, a communique said, and enemy fighters attacked the formation in vain. All of the planes returned, it was announced.

The American Liberators attacked the harbor in a followup to raids by Allied heavy bombers the night before on Naples and the Sicilian ferry terminus at Messina, which were announced by the Middle East command in a communique.

Fires again were started in Naples harbor, the objective of a series of devastating blows by Allied bombers. All planes returned safely from Tuesday night's attack, the communique said.

Publisher's Son Accepted By Army
Camden, N. J., April 8 (AP)—A year ago David Stern, 3d, publisher of the Camden Courier-Post newspapers and vice president of the Philadelphia Record, tried to enlist in the Army as a private but examining physicians rejected him.

The 35-year-old father began receiving treatment and last November underwent an operation. Two weeks ago his physician advised him that he was fit. He volunteered again, and yesterday he was accepted.

Private Stern lives in Haddonfield, New Jersey, with his wife and six-year-old son. He is the son of J. David Stern, publisher and president of the Record and president of the Camden Courier-Post.

Jurors Probing Meat Violations

Philadelphia, April 8 (AP)—A federal grand jury resumed today an investigation of OPA price charges involving 11 meat wholesalers and slaughterers, five in Philadelphia, four in Lehigh county and one each in Montgomery and Delaware counties.

A spokesman for the Office of Price Administration, which filed the original complaints, said the concerns were accused of receiving thousands of dollars in overcharges.

The OPA also alleged that meat was up-graded, billed at excess weight in order to raise prices, and sold by some of the firms only to consumers who agreed to purchase other food commodities which they did not want.

DEFY FDR TO TREAT LABOR LIKE FARMERS
Washington, April 8 (AP)—Congressional farm bloc spokesmen, abandoning their fight for immediate increases in agricultural price ceilings, today challenged the administration to "get as tough with labor as it was with agriculture."

The vetoed Bankhead bill to prohibit the deduction of government benefit payments before fixing maximum prices on farm commodities went back to the Senate Agriculture committee by a 62 to 23 vote, there to join the Pace bill which would include all labor costs in the farm parity formula.

The committee summoned Price Administrator Prentiss Brown and Agriculture Secretary Claude Wickard for hearing on the latter bill today, but committeemen said neither measure would be pressed until, as Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.) put it, "we see what the President does about John L. Lewis' demands."

Lewis is seeking $2-a-day wage increase for his United Mine workers.

Both bills have been attacked by the administration as "inflationary." President Roosevelt, in vetoing the Bankhead bill, declared it might unleash "a tornado" of inflation that would lead to higher living costs and drastic upward revision of wage scales.

Debate on the vetoed bill occupied two days and ended, in a manner of speaking, in a draw. The administration couldn't muster enough votes to kill it, and the farm bloc couldn't override the President.

"The motion to send the bill and message back to the committee gave senators an out," said majority leader Barkley of Kentucky. "It still hangs like a club over the heads of administration leaders—and over the farm bloc as well, although they don't see it that way."

FDR WITHDRAWS OPPOSITION TO INCENTIVE PAY

By STERLING F. GREEN
Washington, April 8 (AP)—Amid strong indications that President Roosevelt has dropped his opposition to "incentive" pay, the War Production Board is scheduled to confer with labor and industry today in an effort to work some such scheme for boosting munitions output.

A subcommittee of WPB's new management-labor council arranged to meet with Charles E. Wilson, WPB executive vice chairman, to start work on details of an incentive plan for the aircraft industry.

No Objections
Among the members of the subcommittee were Richard Frankenstein, aircraft director of the United Automobile Workers union, representing the CIO, and Otto Seyferth, representing the United States Chamber of Commerce. Others include representatives of the AFL and the National Association of Manufacturers.

Even as they met, it became increasingly apparent that President Roosevelt had withdrawn his objections to incentive or "bonus" payment to labor which he voiced flatly one year ago.

In direct conflict with WPB Chairman Donald M. Nelson, Mr. Roosevelt said last April he was utterly opposed to such a plan because men in a time of national emergency should produce all they could. Nelson previously had endorsed the idea for certain war industries.

Favored By Wilson
Wilson, now the sparkplug behind WPB's incentive pay proposal, went to the White House recently. That he got at least a tentative go-ahead was indicated by the fact that he immediately thereafter set about getting clearance from the two agencies which might have opposed him on anti-inflationary grounds—the War Labor Board and the Office of Economic Stabilization.

These agencies also were understood to have acquiesced. Wilson holds the plan to be deflationary, rather than the reverse, since it would result in greater output per dollar of wages paid and lower unit cost of production.

Two Accused Of Price Violation

Pittsburgh, April 8 (AP)—Bench warrants have been issued for the arrest of two operators of the new Diamond market here, charging them with violating OPA price ceiling regulations in the sale of meat. United States Attorney Charles F. Uhl said it was the first criminal prosecution of the kind instituted in federal court here.

The information charged more than 40 violations, citing one instance in which it claimed meat was sold for 14 cents a pound over the ceiling price and in another case sold at 27 cents a pound in excess of regulation prices.

Seek Leader Of Black Gas Gang

Pittsburgh, April 8 (AP)—OPA investigators have asked police authorities in Pennsylvania and surrounding states to help locate the leader of a "black market" gasoline ring which they say has been operating in western Pennsylvania for several weeks. They warn the man may be armed.

Police Lieutenant Arthur Baker reported last night two of his patrolmen had recovered two revolvers which an undisclosed northside gas station attendant said had been left there by the man sought.

Louis G. Feldman, chief investigator for the OPA in the Pittsburgh district, said the black market was using either stolen or counterfeit gasoline coupons. He declined to disclose any details until the leader is apprehended.

"BOMB JITTERS" SWEEP TOKYO IN NEW RAID SCARE

(By The Associated Press)
Japan had a fresh attack of "bomb jitters" today as the Tokyo radio or the second time in 24 hours warned the Japanese people that a new American bombing assault might come at any time "either from the China continent, the Aleutians or from aircraft carriers."

The U. S. Office of War Information said Tokyo broadcasts recalled that it was just short of a year ago that Maj.-Gen. James H. Doolittle's bombers made their first sweeping raid on Japanese mainland cities.

Elsewhere in the far Pacific war theater, the British command announced that British artillery had smashed Japanese attempts to advance in the Indian region in Burma, with the enemy withdrawing after suffering heavy losses.

Along the Bay of Bengal coast, where Field Marshal Sir Archibald P. Wavell's forces have withdrawn from the Mayu peninsula to await the monsoon rains, the British reported "no change" in the last 24 hours of fighting.

Japan Bases Hit

Imperial Tokyo headquarters asserted that Japanese troops had "destroyed" large British forces along the Mayu river and said operations were progressing for destruction of the rest. The British, however, declared the Japanese offensive was futile and that the enemy would be unable to hold newly-won positions during the monsoon floods.

Pennsylvania State college students were told Monday in one of a series of panel discussions during a week-long institute on wartime problems of marriage and the home.

Panel leaders were Dr. Harold C. Coffman, president of George Williams college, of Chicago, Illinois, and Mrs. Mary Moss Cuthbertson, secretary of the student YMCA for the Middle Atlantic region.

Asks Public To Fight Forest Fires

Pittsburgh, April 8 (AP)—United States Regional Forester R. M. Evans today appealed for public help in preventing forest fires which he said were "alarming and immediate military dangers."

BOLIVIA WARS AGAINST AXIS

La Paz, Bolivia, April 8 (AP)—Bolivia was summoned to war against the Axis powers and their satellites by an executive decree today, and leaders of political blocs of the Chamber of Deputies arranged a meeting early in the day to consider the action of President Enrique Penaranda and his cabinet.

Observers here believed an immediate session of Congress to vote a formal declaration of war would be demanded. Congress is the only body authorized constitutionally to adopt such a measure.

Foreign Minister Tomas Manuel Elío said the decree, placing Bolivia beside Brazil as the second country in South America to manifest martial opposition to Germany and Italy, would apply to Japan and all nations associated with the three powers in the war. Brazil did not declare war against Japan. All countries in South America, however, have broken Axis relations, except Argentina.

Scranton, Pa., April 8 (AP)—St. Mary's Greek Catholic church in suburban Taylor was destroyed by fire last night with a loss estimated by firemen at $40,000.

MAY DRAFT FATHERS

Philadelphia, April 8 (AP)—At least one Philadelphia Draft Board may have to induct fathers next month. A spokesman said that all other registrants had been called up except about 75 unmarried, court-men engaged in war work. A spokesman showed many other Philadelphia boards planning the drafting of married men for the first time.

Continual canvasing has been heard 100 miles from the scene of the firing.

In a great line winding over a hill, Germans captured by the Russians in a victorious defense of Stalingrad march toward a Red prison camp. This photo is from a Soviet official newscast.

Fewer Fishermen Seek New Alibis

Kane, Pa., April 8 (AP)—Anglers are looking up a new alibi for the 1943 trout season as the old wheeze about "more fishermen than fish" goes into the discard with the stocking of thousands of brook, brown and rainbow trout in streams of this area.

In addition state and federal agencies placed 150,000 trout in streams of the Allegheny National forest and adjacent state and privately-owned tracts last fall.

Sportsmen report that stream conditions have been ideal for the trout to thrive and this spring the streams have been clear and normal for the latest "planting."

Lifting of the ban on pleasure driving, plus the incentive of meat rationing, led veteran anglers to predict that there will be plenty of fishing this season despite the war.

Woman Is Crushed To Death By Train

Swedesboro, N. J., April 8 (AP)—Marian Ramey, 19, drove down King's highway toward the Pennsylvania-Reading Seashore lines crossing. A train approached to avoid a collision Miss Ramey swerved the car so that it was parallel with the train and still moving. She was unhurt. But in the excitement her mother, Mrs. Grace Ramey, 46, opened the door of the car and got out. She was caught between the automobile and the train and crushed to death.

RETIREMENT ACT
Washington, April 8 (AP)—Railroad employees who have completed 35 years of service might retire with full annuities, regardless of their age, under an amendment to the Railroad Retirement act introduced in the Senate by Senator James J. Davis, Pennsylvania Republican.

Fewer Fishermen Seek New Alibis

Kane, Pa., April 8 (AP)—Anglers are looking up a new alibi for the 1943 trout season as the old wheeze about "more fishermen than fish" goes into the discard with the stocking of thousands of brook, brown and rainbow trout in streams of this area.

In addition, state and federal agencies placed 160,000 trout in streams of the Allegheny National forest and adjacent state and privately-owned tracts last fall.

Sportsmen report that stream conditions have been ideal for the trout to thrive and this spring the streams have been clear and normal for the latest "planting."

Lifting of the ban on pleasure driving, plus the incentive of meat rationing, led veteran anglers to predict that there will be plenty of fishing this season despite the war.

Convicted Killer Will File Appeal

Harrisburg, April 8 (AP)—Herbert Green, 41, Philadelphia, sentenced to die in the electric chair the week of April 26, will ask the Pennsylvania Board of Pardons to commute his sentence at the board's April 21-22 session.

Pleas for commutation also are scheduled for 19 persons given life terms following their conviction on first degree murder charges. In all the board will hear 161 pleas.

Green, convicted in the slayings of Melinda Green, January 3, 1942, and Josephine Cobb, nine days later, in Philadelphia robberies, was sentenced to death a year ago and the sentence was affirmed by the State Supreme court.

Governor Martin originally fixed Green's execution for the week of March 26, but delayed the date so he could make his appeal.

WESTERN AREA SEES RELIEF IN GAS RATIONING

Pittsburgh, April 8 (AP)—Hope for increased gasoline rations within 30 days was held today by city officials in the 26-county western Pennsylvania area despite a declaration by a government petroleum official that "any relaxation of present restrictions could not be justified at this time."

The mayors and burgesses of 56 communities passed a resolution at a meeting here yesterday asking the Petroleum Administration for War and the Office of Price Administration to review the situation "to the end that promptly, and in the interest of the war effort" the area be placed in district two where the basic coupon value is four gallons.

Offers No Relief

They empowered an executive committee to send the resolution to the federal agencies and to the area's congressional representatives, and "to do everything within its power to accomplish the purpose of the resolution."

Robert E. Allen, assistant deputy petroleum administrator, wrote the municipal officials yesterday that "no immediate relief is in sight for gasoline supplies in this area until:

1. The Great Lakes open in about 30 days for regular water transportation to Rochester and Buffalo.

2. Heating oil demand falls off, thus allowing the use of barges now being used in heat-oil transportation to switch over to gasoline transportation.

The city officials expressed belief, however, that the area would be removed from the eastern seaboard district within the next month.

DEGAULLE AND GIRAUD ISSUE "UNEXPLAINED"

London, April 8 (AP)—Fighting French quarters apparently were puzzled today by dispatches from Algiers quoting Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as expressing "surprise" over a French National committee statement that he had asked Gen. Charles DeGaulle to postpone his visit to north Africa.

Declaring that he saw no occasion for General Eisenhower's surprise, a Fighting French spokesman said the national committee merely had issued its statement in explanation of DeGaulle's failure to depart as expected for conferences with Gen. Henri Giraud on the unification of French forces fighting the Axis.

Unexplained Delay

"DeGaulle had been expecting to go since shortly after the first of the year," the spokesman said, "and the reason for the delay in opening negotiations with Giraud otherwise could not be understood."

Dispatches from Algiers said the comment issued from Eisenhower's headquarters did not flatly deny that the Allied commander had asked DeGaulle not to make the trip, but declared cryptically that, since the Fighting French statement was issued in London, Eisenhower "had no doubt that a full statement of the circumstances" will be made there.

Fighting French sources, however, said the national committee was planning no further statement at the moment, adding that "the text of Eisenhower's letter will not be made public because it will add nothing to the case."

School Principal Gets A Black Eye

York, Pa., April 8 (AP)—The York School board was asked to act today to settle a strike of 100 Manchester high school students who left their classrooms yesterday, Principal C. H. Royer said, after "a melee in which I suffered a slightly discolored eye."

A school official gave this explanation of the disturbance: Students were asked to remain in a basement reception room during a recess because of inclement weather. Mischief-making developed and several wastebaskets were emptied on the floors. When the students refused to clean up the debris, teachers summoned Royer and the altercation developed.

Earlier in the day Royer had suspended three pupils. Strikers, who picketed the school building, said they were protesting the suspensions. About 100 members of the student body of 185 participated.

Bill To Revamp Public Assistance Law Is Endorsed By State Official

2 PROVISIONS ELIMINATED TO HELP COUNTIES

Harrisburg, April 8 (AP)—Samuel Y. Ramage, state assistance secretary, today endorsed the major provisions of a bill to revamp the public assistance law.

The endorsement came after Rep. John E. Van Aalsburg (R-Erie), sponsor of the measure, eliminated two provisions to which both the administration and Democrats objected.

These provisions would have required counties to pay 10 per cent of assistance grants and also would have changed the status of county relief boards.

The bill now is ready for floor action.

One of the major provisions would eliminate the requirement that all children of families on relief shall receive a pint of milk daily with the cost deducted from the family grant.

Temporary Jobs

"We are in favor of the milk provision," Ramage commented, adding he also would support other provisions which call for reciprocal agreements with other states to speed up old age assistance for old people moving into Pennsylvania, and also for a rehabilitation program to aid those afflicted with handicaps and infirmities.

The House also received a controversial, Senate-approved measure which would make state civil service jobs temporary for the duration. The bill was passed over vigorous Democratic opposition. The vote was 26 to 13 votes.

Under the measure, civil service appointments made after March 16, 1942, would be on a temporary basis. The rule would be in effect until six months after cessation of hostilities.

Absenteeism continued to plague the Legislature as both houses struggled through heavy calendars.

A Senate resolution said lack of attendance "is seriously impeding the passage of vital legislation" and urged all members "to make every possible effort to so arrange their affairs as to enable them to be regularly in their seats until the closing of the Senate."

Martin Avoids Issue

Senator John J. Haluska (D-Cambria) warned he would ask the sergeant-at-arms to compel members to attend sessions.

In the House, Republicans succeeded in passing a bill to allow first class township officials to fix salaries of controllers by a bare constitutional majority. The Democrats noting empty seats in the 208-member House—including two vacancies—asked for a verification of the roll on the Republican sponsor.

A crowd of Axis prisoners captured in the British Eighth army's drive through the Mareth line awaits transportation to a detention camp behind the Tunisian battle lines. This photo was radioed from Cairo, Egypt, to New York.

Guldens

Guldens — Mr. and Mrs. John Starner had the following as their guests during the week-end: Their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Starner, Haddonfield, New Jersey; their daughter, Mrs. C. E. Good, Harrisburg, and their grandson, Robert Kissinger, a student at Gettysburg college.

Prof. and Mrs. Nicholas Heltzel, Kingston, spent the week-end here. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Mason and son, Raymond, were local visitors on Sunday.

sored measure and succeeded in striking off at least 20 names to reduce the Republican vote to 105 to the minority party's 68.

"That's a matter for the Legislature," commented Martin at a press conference when asked about legislative absenteeism. "I'm putting in six or seven days a week."

Carbon Sheriff To Be Tried Monday

Mauch Chunk, Pa., April 8 (AP)—Sheriff Nathan C. Pollock of Carbon county will go on trial in county court Monday, on charges arising from an alleged slot machine "protection" racket.

Pollock was indicted Tuesday on charges of malfeasance, misfeasance, nonfeasance and misdemeanor in office. The preceding day the grand jury indicted him on charges of extortion, blackmail and conspiracy.

President Judge James C. McCready, who filed the original complaint, has stepped down from the bench to act as prosecutor. The Supreme court named Judge Samuel E. Skull, Monroe county, specially to preside.

CHALFANT TO HELP STATE'S SMALL PLANTS

Harrisburg, April 8 (AP)—Commerce Secretary Floyd Chalfant has pledged his department to help small manufacturers share in new contracts for $100,000,000 in Army Quartermaster items. The contracts have been allotted to Pennsylvania by the smaller war plants corporation.

Chalfant said department representatives now are in the field bringing up to date their surveys of plants which may be able to convert to war work "and the experience of these men will be made available to manufacturers in need of technical advice regarding equipment, transportation, manpower and other problems."

The secretary reported 20 items needed now by the Philadelphia Army Quartermaster depot are on exhibit in Philadelphia. He invited small manufacturers to inspect the exhibit "and sign up for the manufacture of any item which falls within his manufacturing field."

"Engineers of the SWPC will then be sent to survey the plant of the prospective manufacturer to determine his facilities and degree of distress and those who are qualified will then be placed on a preferred list to bid on items needed now and in the future," Chalfant said.

Items in the display were listed as pistol belts, great coats, fiber belts, service shoes, Melton cloth, knitted wool cloth, mountain ski boots, overcoats, wool serge cloth, ski poles, rubber hip boots, rubber finger mittens, uniform (twill cloth), rayon twill cloth, field utensils, leather shoes, cotton seersucker and wool blankets.

BACKACHE?

Try Hot Towels and—A Brisk Oil Rub—Tonight

Don't fly off the handle and jump to scary conclusions that your kidneys are out of order, quite likely they are all right. If in doubt ask your doctor. You are probably doing strenuous work using certain muscles for the first time in many a day and about all you need is some sound common-sense advice. Tonight get a bottle of Moore's Emu-oil Oil at the drug store. At bedtime apply a good hot towel (hot as you can bear it) to open the pores. Keep it on and hot for about five minutes. Dry thoroughly and apply a little of the Oil rubbing well in with a good massage. It doesn't appear. Cover up and go to sleep. In the morning, for good measure, another oil application but no hot towel. You'll be amazed and delighted at the blessed relief you get—back on the job—smiling—happy and much more comfortable. Thousands of bottles are sold each year for tired, aching feet and legs. You can get Emu-oil Oil at any drug store. Peoples Drug Store, Gettysburg, Pa.

Bill To Revamp Public Assistance Law Is Endorsed By State Official

2 PROVISIONS ELIMINATED TO HELP COUNTIES

Harrisburg, April 8 (AP)—Samuel Y. Ramage, state assistance secretary, today endorsed the major provisions of a bill to revamp the public assistance law.

The endorsement came after Rep. John E. Van Aalsburg (R-Erie), sponsor of the measure, eliminated two provisions to which both the administration and Democrats objected.

These provisions would have required counties to pay 10 per cent of assistance grants and also would have changed the status of county relief boards.

The bill now is ready for floor action.

One of the major provisions would eliminate the requirement that all children of families on relief shall receive a pint of milk daily with the cost deducted from the family grant.

Temporary Jobs

"We are in favor of the milk provision," Ramage commented, adding he also would support other provisions which call for reciprocal agreements with other states to speed up old age assistance for old people moving into Pennsylvania, and also for a rehabilitation program to aid those afflicted with handicaps and infirmities.

The House also received a controversial, Senate-approved measure which would make state civil service jobs temporary for the duration. The bill was passed over vigorous Democratic opposition. The vote was 26 to 13 votes.

Under the measure, civil service appointments made after March 16, 1942, would be on a temporary basis.

The rule would be in effect until six months after cessation of hostilities.

Absenteeism continued to plague the Legislature as both houses struggled through heavy calendars.

A Senate resolution said lack of attendance "is seriously impeding the passage of vital legislation" and urged all members "to make every possible effort to so arrange their affairs as to enable them to be regularly in their seats until the closing of the Senate."

Martin Avoids Issue

Senator John J. Haluska (D-Cambria) warned he would ask the sergeant-at-arms to compel members to attend sessions.

In the House, Republicans succeeded in passing a bill to allow first class township officials to fix salaries of controllers by a bare constitutional majority. The Democrats noting empty seats in the 208-member House—including two vacancies—asked for a verification of the roll on the Republican sponsored measure and succeeded in striking off at least 20 names to reduce the Republican vote to 105 to the minority party's 68.

"That's a matter for the Legislature," commented Martin at a press conference when asked about legislative absenteeism. "I'm putting in six or seven days a week."

Carbon Sheriff To Be Tried Monday

Mauch Chunk, Pa., April 8 (AP)—Sheriff Nathan C. Pollock of Carbon county will go on trial in county court Monday, on charges arising from an alleged slot machine "protection" racket.

Pollock was indicted Tuesday on charges of malfeasance, misfeasance, nonfeasance and misdemeanor in office. The preceding day the grand jury indicted him on charges of extortion, blackmail and conspiracy.

President Judge James C. McCready, who filed the original complaint, has stepped down from the bench to act as prosecutor. The Supreme court named Judge Samuel E. Skull, Monroe county, specially to preside.

CHALFANT TO HELP STATE'S SMALL PLANTS

Harrisburg, April 8 (AP)—Commerce Secretary Floyd Chalfant has pledged his department to help small manufacturers share in new contracts for $100,000,000 in Army Quartermaster items. The contracts have been allotted to Pennsylvania by the smaller war plants corporation.

Chalfant said department representatives now are in the field bringing up to date their surveys of plants which may be able to convert to war work "and the experience of these men will be made available to manufacturers in need of technical advice regarding equipment, transportation, manpower and other problems."

The secretary reported 20 items needed now by the Philadelphia Army Quartermaster depot are on exhibit in Philadelphia. He invited small manufacturers to inspect the exhibit "and sign up for the manufacture of any item which falls within his manufacturing field."

"Engineers of the SWPC will then be sent to survey the plant of the prospective manufacturer to determine his facilities and degree of distress and those who are qualified will then be placed on a preferred list to bid on items needed now and in the future," Chalfant said.

Items in the display were listed as pistol belts, great coats, fiber belts, service shoes, Melton cloth, knitted wool cloth, mountain ski boots, overcoats, wool serge cloth, ski poles, rubber hip boots, rubber knee boots, canvas water buckets, finger mittens, uniform twill cloth, rayon twill cloth, field utensils, leather shoes, cotton seersucker and wool blankets.

BACKACHE?

Try Hot Towels and—A Brisk Oil Rub—Tonight

Don't fly off the handle and jump to scary conclusions that your kidneys are out of order, quite likely they are all right. If in doubt ask your doctor. You are probably doing strenuous work using certain muscles for the first time in many a day and about all you need is some sound common-sense advice.

Tonight get a bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil at the drug store. At bedtime apply a good hot towel (not as you can bear it) to open the pores. Keep it on and hot for about five minutes. Dry thoroughly and apply a little of the Oil rubbing well in with a good massage 'til it disappears. Cover up and go to sleep. In the morning, for good measure, another oil application but no hot towel. You'll be amazed and delighted at the blessed relief you get—back on the job—smiling—happy and much more comfortable.

Thousands of bottles are sold each year for tired feet and legs. You can get Emerald Oil at any drug store. Peoples Drug Store, Gettysburg, Pa.

FUTURE RUSSIA
POSES PROBLEM
FOR DIPLOMATS

By WADE WERNER
Former Chief of the Moscow Bureau
of The Associated Press

Washington, April 8 (AP)—Convincing Russia there will be no effort to build a barrier of anti-Soviet states across Europe after the war was viewed in diplomatic circles here Wednesday as one of the thorniest problems confronting postwar planners.

That there will be no effort to erect such a barrier was emphasized by Assistant Secretary of State Adolf A. Berle, Jr., in a broadcast last Sunday when he said:

"Today the idea of a buffer state is as dead as a dodo."

But states, Berle said, are a relic of the old era of secret diplomacy.

Wide Comment

His words were widely interpreted as meaning the United States would not insist on postwar restoration of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania (the Baltic states absorbed by Russia in 1940), or restoration to Poland of eastern areas occupied by Russia in 1939.

In some quarters, however, his assurance was criticized as too narrow to cover the whole range of Russia's postwar security requirements. This view was reflected on the editorial page of the Daily Worker, which frequently follows the Communist line, in an article accusing Berle of advocating the opening of a second front in the Balkans, instead of western Europe, with the idea of using American troops to erect "hostile, Fascist states led by men like Darian on the borders of the Soviet Union."

On the other hand, Berle's flat statement that the buffer state is a thing of the past, "dead as a dodo," aroused perturbation among representatives of some of the smaller European states, who asked what was to become of them.

One of the worried diplomats, who asked that his identity be withheld, pointed out that Adolf Hitler's publicly proclaimed excuse for invading Belgium and Holland was that

Churchill Joins In Asking Trip Delay

London, April 8 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill said in the House of Commons Wednesday he was in full accord with General Dwight D. Eisenhower in the latter's request to Gen. Charles De Gaulle to delay his proposed trip to North Africa.

The Fighting French leader delayed his trip for conferences with Gen. Henri Giraud high commissioner in French North and West Africa, at Eisenhower's request.

Gen. Charles Catroux, liaison officer between De Gaulle and Giraud, is already in North Africa, and De Gaulle had been expected to follow early this week.

It was generally believed the active military situation, with American and British armies in pursuit of Axis Marshal Erwin Rommel's forces in Tunisia, had made it difficult for the Allied commander-in-chief to devote time to political discussions.

Urge State School
Of Aeronautics

Harrisburg, April 8 (AP)—Support of Governor Martin will be sought by Senator Elmer J. Holland (D-Allegheny) for his bill to convert one of the 14 state normal schools into the Pennsylvania Technical School of Aeronautics to train men and women for all phases of aircraft manufacture.

The Senator, announcing plans to confer with the Governor later in the week, declared his proposal fits in with Martin's recommendation that all but six of the normal schools be leased to the Federal government for other uses.

these buffer states were about to double-cross Germany, their powerful neighbor. But the sad history of the League of Nations showed only too clearly, he said, that the series of aggressions which wrecked international efforts to maintain world peace were without exception launched by great powers, not buffer states.

JUDGE SCORES
OUSTER ACTION

Uniontown, Pa., April 8 (AP)—Declaring that the defendants had gone into the wrong court, Judge Horatio S. Dumbauld Tuesday asked the state supreme court to dismiss a petition which seeks to have him disqualified as trial judge in conspiracy cases against five Fayette county officials and former State Senator Anthony Cavalcante.

The judge asserted the petition should have been started in a lower court rather than filed direct with the supreme court.

Judge Dumbauld said that in charging him with seeking to "destroy" them "politically and personally" and asking that "a disinterested judge be appointed," the defendants apparently assumed that the two other Fayette county judges—W. Russell Carr and S. John Morrow—also were disqualified to try the case.

"Yet," he said, "against the fairness and impartiality of these two not a word was uttered. Their judicial standing and stature is known throughout the commonwealth."

The petition and Judge Dumbauld's answer will come up for consideration before the supreme court next week in Philadelphia.

"God Sent Hitler,"
Woman Wrote In 1940

Philadelphia, April 8 (AP)—German-born Mrs. Theresa Kuhn wrote a letter to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt in May, 1940, saying that God sent Hitler to Germany to "save the German people."

She said the letter was hers after the government introduced it in evidence at her federal court denaturalization proceedings. The government contends that she and her husband, Robert, 47, maintained mental reservations of loyalty to Germany when they were naturalized.

Churchill Joins In Asking Trip Delay

London, April 8 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill said in the House of Commons Wednesday he was in full accord with General Dwight D. Eisenhower in the latter's request to Gen. Charles De Gaulle to delay his proposed trip to North Africa.

The fighting French leader delayed his trip for conferences with Gen. Henri Giraud high commissioner in French North and West Africa, at Eisenhower's request.

Gen. Charles Catroux, liaison officer between De Gaulle and Giraud, is already in North Africa, and De Gaulle had been expected to follow early this week.

It was generally believed the active military situation, with American and British armies in pursuit of Axis Marshal Erwin Rommel's forces in Tunisia, had made it difficult for the Allied commander-in-chief to devote time to political discussions.

Urge State School Of Aeronautics

Harrisburg, April 8 (AP)—Support of Governor Martin will be sought by Senator Elmer J. Holland (D-Allegheny) for his bill to convert one of the 14 state normal schools into the Pennsylvania Technical School of Aeronautics to train men and women for all phases of aircraft manufacture.

The Senator, announcing plans to confer with the Governor later in the week, declared his proposal fits in with Martin's recommendation that all but six of the normal schools be leased to the Federal government for other uses.

These buffer states were about to double-cross Germany, their powerful neighbor. But the sad history of the League of Nations showed only too clearly, he said, that the series of aggressions which wrecked international efforts to maintain world peace were without exception launched by great powers, not buffer states.

JUDGE SCORES OUSTER ACTION

Uniontown, Pa., April 8 (AP)—Declaring that the defendants had gone into the wrong court, Judge Horatio S. Dumbauld Tuesday asked the state supreme court to dismiss a petition which seeks to have him disqualified as trial judge in conspiracy cases against five Fayette county officials and former State Senator Anthony Cavalcante.

The judge asserted the petition should have been started in a lower court rather than filed direct with the supreme court.

Judge Dumbauld said that in charging him with seeking to "destroy" them "politically and personally" and asking that "a disinterested judge be appointed," the defendants apparently assumed that the two other Fayette county judges—W. Russell Carr and S. John Morrow—also were unqualified to try the case.

"Yet," he said, "against the fairness and impartiality of these two not a word was uttered. Their judicial standing and stature is known throughout the commonwealth."

The petition and Judge Dumbauld's answer will come up for consideration before the supreme court next week in Philadelphia.

"God Sent Hitler," Woman Wrote In 1940

Philadelphia, April 8 (AP)—German-born Mrs. Theresa Kuhn wrote a letter to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt in May, 1940, saying that God sent Hitler to Germany to "save the German people."

She said the letter was hers after the government introduced it in evidence at her federal court denaturalization proceedings. The government contends that she and her husband, Robert, 47, maintained mental reservations of loyalty to Germany when they were naturalized.

bauld's answer will come up for consideration before the supreme court next week in Philadelphia.

REA BALKING SUPERVISION BY STATE PUC

Harrisburg, April 8 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Association of Rural Electric Cooperatives sought today to prevent the passage of bills placing its member companies under the supervision of the Public Utility Commission, asserting that "further restrictions" would impede the war effort of its 26,000 member farmers.

"Rural electric cooperatives are doing more than any other agency to bridge the gap created by the serious shortage of farm labor by furnishing electric current to farmers prolonging the working day," G. S. Parnell, association counsel, said in a statement.

"There is no necessity for the Public Utility Commission or any other governmental agency protecting the owners of rural electric cooperatives from themselves," it continued, adding 13 such organizations now serve 26,000 owner-consumers in the state.

Restrict Expansion

One of the measures protested would require cooperatives to file maps outlining proposed territory and listing prospective customers with the PUC before receiving authority to do business.

The second bill would require cooperatives to apply to the PUC for certificates of public convenience and would change the definition of a rural area from a district having a population of 2,500 to one with 700 residents. At present such organizations are exempt from PUC supervision.

Parnell said, "any attempt to interfere with present operations by imposing further legal restrictions, would hinder and delay the war effort and slacken and reduce the ability of the farmer members to produce vitally needed food."

MILK PRICES ARE BOOSTED

Harrisburg, April 8 (AP)—Retail milk prices have advanced at least a cent a quart in most of Pennsylvania since January 1 and similar boosts are set for April 12 for the remainder of the state.

Increased by the state Milk Control commission to maintain adequate supplies in face of higher production costs, higher prices are in effect in 11 of the state's 17 marketing areas, while the Office of Price Administration approved boosts in the York, Schuylkill, Harrisburg and Lehigh areas, effective April 12.

The commission expects similar approval for advances in the Philadelphia and Pittsburgh areas by April 12.

Consumers are paying, or will pay, 15 cents a quart for Grade "B" milk in all but the Pittsburgh area, where the price is 15½ cents and in the central, state-wide, northwestern and Zone 2 of the Erie marketing area where the price is 14 cents.

Milk producers, at the same time,

are, or will receive, prices ranging from $3.20 per hundredweight in Zone 2 of the central marketing area to $3.75 in the Philadelphia area for Class 1 milk with 35 per cent butterfat. The bulk of such milk is bottled for the retail trade.

The commission said practically all recent retail price increases have been passed on to milk producers.

The increase came after a year in which milk production in the state broke all previous records as reported by Agriculture Secretary Miles Horst. The production was estimated at 5,020 million pounds, three per cent greater than that in 1941. It was the first time the five billion mark was exceeded.

REA BALKING SUPERVISION BY STATE PUC

Harrisburg, April 8 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Association of Rural Electric Cooperatives sought today to prevent the passage of bills placing its member companies under the supervision of the Public Utility commission, asserting that "further restrictions" would impede the war effort of its 26,000 member farmers.

"Rural electric cooperatives are doing more than any other agency to bridge the gap created by the serious shortage of farm labor by furnishing electric current to farmers prolonging the working day," G. S. Parnell, association counsel, said in a statement.

"There is no necessity for the Public Utility commission or any other governmental agency protecting the owners of rural electric cooperatives from themselves," it continued, adding 13 such organizations now serve 26,000 owner-consumers in the state.

Restrict Expansion

One of the measures protested would require cooperatives to file maps outlining proposed territory and listing prospective customers with the PUC before receiving authority to do business.

The second bill would require cooperatives to apply to the PUC for certificates of public convenience and would change the definition of a rural area from a district having a population of 2,500 to one with 700 residents. At present such organizations are exempt from PUC supervision.

Parnell said, "any attempt to interfere with present operations by imposing further legal restrictions, would hinder and delay the war effort and slacken and reduce the ability of the farmer members to produce vitally needed food."

MILK PRICES ARE BOOSTED

Harrisburg, April 8 (AP)—Retail milk prices have advanced at least a cent a quart in most of Pennsylvania since January 1 and similar boosts are set for April 12 for the remainder of the state.

Increased by the state Milk Control commission to maintain adequate supplies in face of higher production costs, higher prices are in effect in 11 of the state's 17 marketing areas, while the Office of Price Administration approved boosts in the York, Schuylkill, Harrisburg and Lehigh areas, effective April 12.

The commission expects similar approval for advances in the Philadelphia and Pittsburgh areas by April 12.

Consumers are paying, or will pay, 15 cents a quart for Grade "B" milk in all but the Pittsburgh area, where the price is 15½ cents and in the central, state-wide, northwestern and Zone 2 of the Erie marketing area where the price is 14 cents.

Milk producers, at the same time,

are, or will receive, prices ranging from $3.20 per hundredweight in Zone 2 of the central marketing area to $3.75 in the Philadelphia area for Class 1 milk with 3.5 per cent butterfat. The bulk of such milk is bottled for the retail trade.

The commission said practically all recent retail price increases have been passed on to milk producers.

The increase came after a year in which milk production in the state broke all previous records as reported by Agriculture Secretary Miles Horst. The production was estimated at 5,020 million pounds, three per cent greater than that in 1941. It was the first time the five billion mark was exceeded.

FUTURE RUSSIA
POSES PROBLEM
FOR DIPLOMATS

By WADE WERNER
Former Chief of the Moscow Bureau
of The Associated Press

Washington, April 8 (AP)—Convincing Russia there will be no effort to build a barrier of anti-Soviet states across Europe after the war was viewed in diplomatic circles here Wednesday as one of the thorniest problems confronting postwar planners.

That there will be no effort to erect such a barrier was emphasized by Assistant Secretary of State Adolf A. Berle, Jr., in a broadcast last Sunday when he said:

Today the idea of a buffer state is as dead as a dodo."

Buffer states, Berle said, are a relic of the old era of secret diplomacy.

Wide Comment

His words were widely interpreted as meaning the United States would not insist on postwar restoration of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania (the Baltic states absorbed by Russia in 1940), or restoration to Poland of eastern areas occupied by Russia in 1939.

In some quarters, however, his assurance was criticized as too narrow to cover the whole range of Russia's postwar security requirements. This view was reflected on the editorial page of the Daily Worker, which frequently follows the Communist line, in an article accusing Berle of advocating the opening of a second front in the Balkans, instead of western Europe, with the idea of using American troops to erect "hostile, Fascist states led by men like Darian on the borders of the Soviet Union."

On the other hand, Berle's flat statement that the buffer state is a thing of the past, "dead as a dodo," aroused perturbation among representatives of some of the smaller European states, who asked what was to become of them.

One of the worried diplomats, who asked that his identity be withheld, pointed out that Adolf Hitler's publicly proclaimed excuse for invading Belgium and Holland was that

Churchill Joins In
Asking Trip Delay

London, April 8 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill said in the House of Commons Wednesday he was in full accord with General Dwight D. Eisenhower in the latter's request to Gen. Charles De Gaulle to delay his proposed trip to North Africa.

The Fighting French leader delayed his trip for conferences with Gen. Henri Giraud high commissioner in French North and West Africa, at Eisenhower's request.

Gen. Charles Catroux, liaison officer between De Gaulle and Giraud, is already in North Africa, and De Gaulle had been expected to follow early this week.

It was generally believed the active military situation, with American and British armies in pursuit of Axis Marshal Erwin Rommel's forces in Tunisia, had made it difficult for the Allied commander-in-chief to devote time to political discussions.

Urge State School
Of Aeronautics

Harrisburg, April 8 (AP)—Support of Governor Martin will be sought by Senator Elmer J. Holland (D-Allegheny) for his bill to convert one of the 14 state normal schools into the Pennsylvania Technical School of Aeronautics to train men and women for all phases of aircraft manufacture.

The Senator, announcing plans to confer with the Governor later in the week, declared his proposal fits in with Martin's recommendation that all but six of the normal schools be leased to the Federal Government for other uses.

These buffer states were about to double-cross Germany, their powerful neighbor. But the sad history of the League of Nations showed only too clearly, he said, that the series of aggressions which wrecked international efforts to maintain world peace were without exception launched by great powers, not buffer states.

JUDGE SCORES
OUSTER ACTION

Uniontown, Pa., April 8 (AP)—Declaring that the defendants had gone into the wrong court, Judge Horatio S. Dumbauld Tuesday asked the state supreme court to dismiss a petition which seeks to have him disqualified as trial judge in conspiracy cases against five Fayette county officials and former State Senator Anthony Cavalcante.

The judge asserted the petition should have been started in a lower court rather than filed direct with the supreme court.

Judge Dumbauld said that in charging him with seeking to "destroy" them "politically and personally" and asking that "a disinterested judge be appointed," the defendants apparently assumed that the two other Fayette county judges—W. Russell Carr and S. John Morrow—also were unqualified to try the case.

"Yet," he said, "against the fairness and impartiality of these two not a word was uttered. Their judicial standing and stature is known throughout the Commonwealth."

The petition and Judge Dumbauld's answer will come up for consideration before the supreme court next week in Philadelphia.

"God Sent Hitler,"
Woman Wrote In 1940

Philadelphia, April 8 (AP)—German-born Mrs. Theresa Kuhn wrote a letter to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt in May, 1940, saying that God sent Hitler to Germany to "save the German people."

She said the letter was hers after the government introduced it in evidence at her federal court denaturalization proceedings. The government contends that she and her husband, Robert, 47, maintained mental reservations of loyalty to Germany when they were naturalized.

build's answer will come up for consideration before the supreme court next week in Philadelphia.

REA BALKING SUPERVISION BY STATE PUC

Harrisburg, April 8 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Association of Rural Electric Cooperatives sought today to prevent the passage of bills placing its member companies under the supervision of the Public Utility Commission asserting that "further restrictions" would impede the war effort of its 26,000 member farmers.

"Rural electric cooperatives are doing more than any other agency to bridge the gap created by the serious shortage of farm labor by furnishing electric current to farmers prolonging the working day," G. S. Parnell, association counsel, said in a statement.

"There is no necessity for the Public Utility Commission or any other governmental agency protecting the owners of rural electric cooperatives from themselves," it continued adding 13 such organizations now serve 26,000 owner consumers in the state.

Restrict Expansion

One of the measures protested would require cooperatives to file maps outlining proposed territory and listing prospective customers with the PUC before receiving authority to do business.

The second bill would require cooperatives to apply to the PUC for certificates of public convenience and would change the definition of a rural area from a district having a population of 2,500 to one with 700 residents. At present such organizations are exempt from PUC supervision.

Parnell said, "any attempt to interfere with present operations by imposing further legal restrictions, would hinder and delay the war effort and slacken and reduce the ability of the farmer members to produce vitally needed food."

MILK PRICES ARE BOOSTED

Harrisburg, April 8 (AP)—Retail milk prices have advanced at least a cent a quart in most of Pennsylvania since January 1 and similar boosts are set for April 12 for the remainder of the state.

Increased by the state Milk Control commission to maintain adequate supplies in face of higher production costs, higher prices are in effect in 11 of the state's 17 marketing areas while the Office of Price Administration approved boosts in the York, Schuylkill, Harrisburg and Lehigh areas effective April 12.

The commission expects similar approval for advances in the Philadelphia and Pittsburgh areas by April 12.

Consumers are paying or will pay 15 cents a quart for Grade 'B' milk in all but the Pittsburgh area where the price is 15 1/2 cents and in the central state-wide northwestern and Zone 2 of the Erie marketing area where the price is 14 cents.

Milk producers at the same time are or will receive prices ranging from $3.20 per hundredweight in Zone 2 of the central marketing area to $3.75 in the Philadelphia area for Class 1 milk with 3 1/2 per cent butterfat. The bulk of such milk is bottled for the retail trade.

The commission said practically all recent retail price increases have been passed on to milk producers.

The increase came after a year in which milk production in the state broke all previous records as reported by Agriculture Secretary Miles Horst. The production was estimated at 1,020 million pounds, three per cent greater than that in 1941. It was the first time the five billion mark was exceeded.

MAY EXTEND SOFT COAL ACT

Washington, April 8 (AP)—A simple resolution extending the bi-tuminous coal act for three or four months to prevent its lapse on April 26 through lack of time for action on pending extension bills has been decided on by House administration leaders.

President Roosevelt is reported to have informed the leaders that some extension should be provided for the act, passed in 1937 to establish minimum prices for soft coal and discourage ruinous competition.

Representative Robertson (R-Va.) chairman of the ways and means subcommittee on the problem, said it would be impossible to pass any of the pending bills before the April 26 deadline, and Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the full committee said a simple stop-gap extension will be sought to allow time for adequate hearings on more permanent and modifying legislation later.

The subcommittee had tentatively planned to start consideration of extension bills today, but Robertson said this was abandoned in favor of full committee hearings later.
